The Fresno Morning Republican

VOL. XXXIII—NO. 126. FRESNO, CALIFORNIA, FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 15, 1907. PRICE FIVE CENTS

LEGISLATURE WILL CONVENE TUESDAY

Governor Will Issue Call Today and Has Already Sent Telegrams to all Members of the Body.

REMOVAL OF WILSON IS INCLUDED AMONG CAUSES

SAN FRANCISCO, November 14.—Governor Gillett will tomorrow issue a call for an extraordinary session of the legislature to be convened at 10 o'clock on next Tuesday morning.

The Governor arrived at his decision this afternoon, following a conference in which participated the governor, Lieutenant Governor Warren Porter, George W. Peltier, president of the California Bankers' association, and W. E. Gerber, president of the California National bank of this city, and E. C. Cooper, private secretary to the governor. The governor has decided upon the five main matters which the legislature will be called upon to consider, but he stated tonight that perhaps one or two other things would be included in the formal call which will be issued tomorrow.

Telegrams have been sent out tonight informing all of the legislators of the governor's decision.

Governor Gillett states that the five most important matters to be considered would be as follows:

1—To add a new section to the political code relating to the postponement of the collection of taxes, to the postponement of delinquency for the non-payment of the same, and postponing the time for the preparation of delinquent lists for unpaid taxes and the duties of all persons and public officials connected therewith in the event of general financial stringency.

2—To amend that section of the code of civil procedure relating to holidays, to the effect that during the time of special holidays declared by proclamation of the governor, the courts have power to call juries to hear and determine all criminal causes and prosecutions; to hear and determine all matters in civil cases pending and on trial; to hear and determine injunction suits; to quiet title to real property; suits in partition; condemnation of property for public uses; actions in forcible entry and detainer, or unlawful detainer, replevin, ejectment, divorce, commitment of insane persons, probate proceedings in the estates of minor and insane persons, and the trial of causes for the enforcement of liens of laborers and material men; judges of the superior courts to have the right to make any orders in chambers they are authorized to make at any other time.

3—To approve the following amendments to the charter of San Francisco, to-wit: Relating to the bond issue; allowing the treasurer to deposit city funds in certain banks under certain terms and conditions and fixing the salaries and vacations of firemen and policemen.

4—Concerning harbor improvement at Islais Creek, San Francisco.

5—To remove Andrew M. Wilson from the office of railroad commissioner on the ground of corruption.

The governor stated that he may include the consideration of the payment of state troops which looked after government property in San Francisco during the recent car strike, for whose pay no provision is made.

Great Pressure From Bankers.

The opinion had prevailed for some time that the governor would call the legislature into extraordinary session. Pressure to this end has been brought to bear upon him from all parts of the state. At first the governor was much averse to calling the legislature together on the ground that it would be an advertisement to the world that California can not pay its taxes. During the last few days he had been besieged by prominent proponents of the special session, and today reached the conclusion that such convocation is necessary.

At the conference which began early this afternoon and continued for several hours all phases of the question were considered. During the last few days the bankers have been most insistent that an extra session is necessary, and their position was urged upon the governor again today with great energy.

It has been intimated that the governor several days ago made up his mind to convene the solons and that the conference was more for the purpose of determining what points should be included in the call than from any other purpose. So that as it may, the governor has not fully concluded all the details of the call at a late hour tonight.

The refusal of the tax collector of San Francisco to accept clearing house certificates in payment of taxes was the initial incentive urged upon the governor as making a special session of the legislature necessary.

All Sorts of Proposals.

Since that time the governor has been asked to include in the call scores upon scores of matters. If he had decided, however, that if the legislature was convened it would be asked to consider the smallest number of matters which he deemed necessary for the public good. Today he went over the whole list again and cut right and left, until tonight he had pruned down the list of possibilities to less than a dozen.

Of this number the governor stated the five which will certainly be included in the call. Of the others he said:

"It is possible that one or two more may be included. For instance the state troops who were called out to protect government property during the recent car strike at San Francisco have not been paid, as there is no fund from which they may be paid. It is possible that I will advise consideration of an appropriation of the money necessary to pay these troops. No, I cannot say what other matters may be included. Perhaps none will be and perhaps one or two may be after I have had time to go over the list again.

"The matters I have spoken to you of as to be included in the call speak for themselves. I should certainly not ask the legislature to consider these matters unless I deemed their consideration as necessary."

When asked in particular regarding the proposal to oust Andrew M. Wilson from the office of railroad commissioner, he said:

"If I had not thought that Wilson should be removed I should not so advise in the call. I have for a long time thought that Wilson is not a proper man to hold the responsible position which he occupies, and I have for a long time wished him to relinquish the office. As far back as last April I sent him a letter requesting his resignation, but the resignation has not been forthcoming."

Governor Gillett stated tonight that he wishes the legislature to do its work in as short a time as possible and at the least expense to the state.

GOULD ACCUSES WIFE OF OLD MIS-STEPS

NEW YORK, Nov. 14. — An affidavit setting forth on information and belief that prior to her marriage to him, Katherine Clemmons' relations with William F. Cody (Buffalo Bill) were criminal and meretricious, was filed in the Circuit court this morning by Howard Gould. The affidavit declares that Miss Clemmons told Gould that her relations with Cody were purely of a business nature, but that he has since learned that this was not true. Through Katherine Mer, of London, England, Gould said he expects to show that his wife confessed to Miss Mer the true nature of her relations with Cody.

The case came up before Justice O'Gorman today on the application of Clarence Shearn, counsel for Mrs. Gould, to have vacated an order which Mr. Gould recently got from Justice Fitzgerald for the examination of Miss Mer as a witness in Mrs. Gould's suit for a separation. Mr. Shearn argued that Mr. Gould's affidavit does not divulge the nature of the alleged relations between his wife and Cody.

"We desire to have the order vacated," continued Mr. Shearn, "for the reason that in an action such as this, where the wife lived with the defendant for eight years and has brought action for separation, she should be directly confronted with woman who made statement that twelve years ago, prior to their marriage, plaintiff has maintained meretricious relations with some other man. She should confront the jury and be cross examined."

PRESBYTERIANS WANT MOTTO ON COINS

CINCINNATI, Nov. 14.—The Presbyterian Brotherhood of America today adopted the following resolutions: "The Presbyterian Brotherhood of America regrets that the words 'In God We Trust' have been omitted from the coins of the United States, and earnestly hope that congress will take action to restore them.

J. D. Husted of California, E. W. Johnson of Corsicana, Texas, W. E. Stone of Tacoma and A. C. Shear of St. Louis are among those elected members of the governing council of the brotherhood. The Rev. Ira Landreth of Nashville was re-elected general secretary.

HARRY BUNKERS IS AMONG THE MANY SEEKING PAROLE

SAN RAFAEL, Nov. 14.—The State Board of Prison Directors will meet at San Quentin on Saturday. At this meeting about fifty applications for parole will be acted upon, among the applicants being Harry Bunkers, ex-state senator, convicted for accepting a bribe, and George Cummings, a Fresno murderer. Both will no doubt be paroled.

The Fresno jail records show no entry of any George Cummings sent to the penitentiary. It is thought that the above dispach refers to David Taylor who was convicted about two years ago of the murder of Jacob Rederosian and for whom an effort has been made to get a pardon.

FINANCIER IN DESPAIR, SUICIDES

C. T. Barney, Deposed Head of Knickerbocker Trust Co., Ends Life a Broken Man.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—Charles Tracey Barney, the deposed president of the Knickerbocker Trust company, and until recently a power in the financial world, shot and killed himself today in his home.

His loans with the bank, it is said, are amply secured, and when he was forced from its presidency he was, to all intents and purposes, eliminated, as a factor in banking circles. What ill-effects his unexpected taking off might have had on the financial situation generally had long since been discounted. In distress of mind over the dissipation of his private fortune and the loss of his high standing among business associates, intimate acquaintances find the hidden drift that broke his health and reason, and even much of his personal wealth might have been saved.

At the time that Barney was dying at his home at East Thirty-eighth street and Park avenue, the surgeons probing for a bullet, that misdirected by a nerveless hand had entered the body below the heart, a number of friends at a down town office were concluding an argument by which the loose ends of the many enterprises were to be gathered up and financed by a stock company, which if not wholly successful would at least rescue from the wreckage sufficient to insure the promoter's future financial standing. The conference broke up at the announcement that Mr. Barney was dead.

Fall Results in Death.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 14.—Patrolman Robert Barry, who was thrown from his horse yesterday, sustaining a fractured skull, died this morning. He had been in the police department twenty-two years.

MILITIA QUESTION BEFORE UNIONISTS

Resolution Advises Organized Labor to Hold Aloof from All the Present Military Bodies.

NORFOLK, Va., Nov. 14.—Addresses by D. J. Shackleton and J. Hodge of London both labor members of parliament; W. R. Trotter of Winnipeg, Mann., Canadian fraternal delegate, and T. V. Powderly, representing the department of commerce and labor, and the introduction and the reference of a large number of other resolutions formed the leading features of the day's session.

A notable feature was the address of Mr. Powderly, who declared he hoped the day would come in his own time when the president of the United States and his cabinet officers would not consider it beneath their dignity to visit and address the American Federation of Labor.

Resolutions were introduced calling upon congress in the event of an "industrial crisis" following the "financial panic" to find ways and means to ameliorate and mitigate the crisis by issuing money without interest to states, counties and cities for the purpose of building highways, schools, bridges and public utilities, provided, however, that such work be done at union wages under the eight hour day," the money proposed to be loaned to be returned in easy installments.

Other resolutions today were as follows:

Calling on all members of organized labor to absolutely hold aloof from all military organizations until the United States provides a military system such as that of Switzerland; providing for a woman organizer for the women wage workers of the United States; endorsing the Spright bill in congress for the relief of seamen in foreign-going vessels; urging congress to act favorably on any legislation bearing on the increase of pay of postoffice clerks; levying a general assessment of 1 cent a month for the aid of the labor unions in Los Angeles; calling for a minimum of $9 a week for all female retail clerks, and giving this movement the support of the federation; calling for the building and repairing of all government vessels at navy yards and a committee to have this in charge with a salary of $24 a week each, and necessary expenses, hotel expenses not to exceed $1.50 per day.

LOUISVILLE CARS STOP ON STRIKE

Efforts at oCpmromise Between Carmen and Employers Fail at the Last Moment

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Nov. 15.—By a vote which was finished at an early hour this (Friday) morning, the local union of the Amalgamated street car employes re-affirmed their decision to go on strike against the Louisville Railway company. All cars will have stopped running by 5 o'clock this morning. The decision of the men to strike came within a few hours after it was supposed that compromise measures taken by Mayor Grinstead had proven effective. Mayor Grinstead's proposition, however, when submitted was rejected by the men as too vague.

TROOPS NECESSARY TO PROTECT COURT

Governor of Louisiana Orders Militia In Readiness to Proceed to Scene of Italian Trial.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 14.—One company of state troops received orders this afternoon from Governor Blanchard to report immediately to the sheriff at Hahnville, where the trial of two Italians alleged to have been implicated in the kidnapping and murder of 8-year-old Walter Lamana last June is now going on. It is believed here that this is merely a precautionary measure.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—The clearing house announced today that some of the clearing house certificates issued a week or two ago in behalf of some small banks have now been retired from circulation, the banks now being able to meet their balance with cash. The bankers in charge of the issuing of local certificates declared that this shows that financial conditions are fast becoming normal and that the strain on small banks is being relieved.

FEDERAL COIN FLOODS COAST

Treasury Department Orders $5,000,000 in Gold Sent to San Francisco Sub-Treasury

OVER A MILLION HAS COME ALREADY

Business Men Affect to Be Indifferent to Government Action, However, Saying San Francisco Will Care for Itself

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 14. — Orders were received at the mint today from Washington to transfer $5,000,000 in gold to the sub-treasury. The order coming immediately after the announcement of Secretary Cortelyou that the treasury department had turned its attention to the West and the Pacific coast caused general speculation as to the use to be made of the money thus transferred. In the absence of information to the contrary, it was believed in banking circles that the coin was intended simply to be used against transfers from the East. Four million dollars of the amount will consist of double eagles and the remainder of eagles.

The United States sub-treasury reported today that it had paid out on New York, Boston and Philadelphia transfers to California and Oregon banks $1,100,000. Fifty thousand of this amount came from Philadelphia, fifty thousand was sent to Oregon and the rest divided between banks located in San Francisco, Sacramento and Fresno.

Bankers were not inclined to expect much in the way of assistance from the federal government. They pointed out that the quickest mode of relief consisted of the exchange of government bonds at the sub-treasury for gold had been denied.

"We do not look for any special aid from the government," said Homer S. King, president of the clearing house. San Francisco will take care of itself."

The new $2 certificate will not be ready for circulation before Saturday. A sufficient amount will be placed on the market for the purposes of change. In all an issue of $5,000,000 of clearing house certificates has been authorized but not much more than half of this amount has been put out.

A statement was expected today from the California Safe Deposit and Trust company, but it was announced that the statement would not be ready for a day or two. It is understood that it will be reassuring to the depositors and will form the basis of an agreement to be arranged later under which the bank will re-open its doors.

Grain which has been tied up because of the car shortage is beginning to move to Market and will aid materially in relieving the situation. The news that the extra session had been called did not reach the city today until long after banking hours.

CLEARING HOUSE CERTIFICATES ARE CAUSE OF TROUBLE

(Special to Republican.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 14.—The street car companies have found it impracticable to accept the clearing house certificates because if it did the conductors would soon be deprived of their small change. People don't like the certificates and always offer them in payment in preference to parting with coin. A new annoyance has been added by the requirement of many firms, particularly rent collection agencies, that the person making the payment shall write an indorsement. Only necessity makes the certificates go, the Californian's aversion to paper money still holding good.

CONVENTION IS ANTI-HOGGATT

Republicans of Alaska Agree In Wanting Home Rule, But Are Split on the Governorship.

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 14.—A cablegram to the Post Intelligencer from Juneau says:

The Republican territorial convention which convened here today to elect delegates to the National Republican convention has, as expected, been entirely controlled by the anti-Hoggat forces. As a result of the strong turn of affairs, the delegates friendly to the governor, numbering between thirty and thirty-five, walked out of the convention. For a time it was thought that a rump convention would be held but at 5 o'clock the bolters gave out the announcement that they would attempt no gathering of their own, but that a delegation would be sent to the national convention to oppose the seating of delegates from Alaska.

It is becoming apparent that nothing can head off a resolution strongly denouncing the course and policy of Governor Wilford B. Hoggatt. The home rule forces are divided in point but the out-spoken anti-Hoggatt party are apparently in a position to dictate absolutely the utterances of the convention and at present it looks as if they would refuse to be swerved from their determination to put the convention on record as strongly against the Hoggat administration. E. E. Ritchie of Seward, a strong anti-Hoggatt man, secured the chairmanship of the committee on resolutions. The adoption of a strong home rule declaration is, of course, a foregone conclusion.

The regulars remained in the convention and elected W. T. Perkins of Nome temporary chairman and W. T. E. M. Culberson temporary secretary.

The chair announced the committee on resolutions as follows:

E. E. Ritchie, J. W. Corsons, L. Tozier Shea and Ryan. This committee is looked upon as distinctly hostile to the governor.

LAST HOPE OF BOODLERS ENDS

Supreme Court Throws Out the Appeal of Parkside Grafters On Their Technical Issues.

Special to Republican.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 14.—The Supreme Court disposed today of the last question remaining as to saving the corporation men indicted for boodling from going to trial. The petition of Attorney W. I. Brobeck, who is accused of carrying on negotiations with Abe Ruef regarding the Parkside franchise, for a writ to restrain the Superior Court from proceeding with his trial on the ground that no evidence was produced before the grand jury tending to show that he was guilty of a public offense, was denied by the court in bank.

The contention that a Superior judge could nullify an indictment on this ground was first advanced by Attorney D. M. Delmas in behalf of Louis Glass and all the allied defendants. He spoke for three days on the point before Judge Lawlor and cited a number of authorities in his point from his contact argument. The defendant placed great hopes in this point and Delmas was hailed as the bright star. He had gained. The graft prosecution contented itself with New York jurisprudence.

The graft prosecution contented itself with citing an overwhelming number of precedents, and Attorney Cobb, to whom the matter was entrusted, did not make much of an argumentative attempt against Delmas' efforts to introduce a new order of things in California jurisprudence.

The Supreme Court disposes of the case very briefly. It declares that under the law of California there is no possible assailing of an indictment on the ground of the insufficiency of the evidence before the grand jury. It is significant that the court quotes as follows from an old opinion of Justice McFarland, who alone dissents in the recent decision upholding the validity of the grand jury: "An indictment is a record of the action of a judicial body, and such action is final when there is no appeal therefrom, and no other method provided for reversing it; and there is no method for reversing it on the ground that there was not sufficient evidence to support it."

The accused men can place no more hope in the Supreme Court to upset the indictments. Brobeck's petition having presented the last point for them.

BRYAN WILL TAKE THE NOMINATION

Nebraskan Is Ready to Save Democracy as 1908 Leader But It Must be at His Own Terms.

WILL DO NOTHING TO FORWARD CANDIDACY BEFORE CONVENTION

LINCOLN, Neb., Nov. 14.—William J. Bryan will accept the Democratic nomination for President in 1908, but he will neither ask nor make a fight for it. He says that for a year or more he has been pressed to answer the question, "Will you accept the nomination?" and he believes the public is entitled to an answer and to know the position he occupies.

The question that ought to weigh most, he says, is whether his nomination will strengthen the Democratic party more than the nomination of someone else. Not only will he not seek or ask for a nomination but he will not assume to decide the question of ability and if the prize falls to another he will neither be disappointed nor disgruntled. At the same time he denies that he has waited this long in a desire to see to whom the Republicans are likely to nominate or to ascertain the chances of victory.

Bryan's Statement.

Mr. Bryan says:

"Now that the election of 1907 is past and plans are being made for next year's campaign, Mr. Bryan feels that a statement is due to the public. Those who prefer another candidate are entitled to know his position and those who favor his nomination have a right to demand an answer to the question so often put, will you accept a nomination? His refusal to answer the question has led to the circulation of many false reports and unfriendly newspapers have taken advantage of his silence to misrepresent his attitude.

"Mr. Bryan will not ask for nor seek a nomination and he will not assume to decide the question of his availability. He has been so amply recompensed by his party for what he has done and for what he has endeavored to do that he cannot claim a nomination as a reward; neither should his ambition be considered, for he has had honors enough from his party to satisfy any reasonable ambition. The only question that ought to weigh with the party is whether the party can be strengthened and aided more by his nomination than by the nomination of someone else. If he can serve the party by being its candidate, he will accept the commission and make the best fight he can.

"If, however, the choice falls to another, he will not be disappointed or disgruntled.

"He assumes that they will not select him unless they desire to make an aggressive fight for the presentation of Democratic principles to present conditions and he also takes it for granted that the organization of the party will be in harmony with the platform and will be composed of men whose political records will invite confidence and give assurance that a victory, if won, will not be a barren victory.

"The Republicans must nominate either a reform, or a stand patter or one whose position on public questions is unknown, and the course of the Democratic party should be the same no matter which element controls the Republican campaign. The Democratic party must make its fight for what it believes. While it may take advantage of Republican mistakes, it must depend on its merits for success and not on the errors of its opponents.

"The action of the Republican convention may have its influence in the determination of the relative ability of Democratic candidates but it ought not to have any influence in determining the question whether the one chosen by the Democrats should accept the nomination. If the rank and file of the Democratic party desire Mr. Bryan to make the race he will make it no matter who may be the Republican nominee.

"No one can estimate the chances of the party in the next campaign with sufficient accuracy to make his candidate dependent upon the outlook. While Democrats have reason to be encouraged by the fact that Democratic principles have grown in popularity and that Democratic policies are now praised by many who denounced them a few years ago, and while further encouragement is to be derived from the fact that the Democratic party is more united than it has been for many years and the Republican party more divided, still the action of the Democratic party can not be made dependent on the prospects of success.

"If the members of the party believe that Mr. Bryan's nomination will help the party, its principles and its policies, he will accept the nomination whether the indications point to defeat or victory. A defeat can bring no disgrace where the cause is a just one, but cowardice would be disgraceful especially in one who is as deeply indebted to his party as Mr. Bryan is.

Government a Business Asset.

"The next campaign will be an appeal to the public conscience. The investigations have shown not only the corrupt use of large campaign funds, but the only source from which they can be drawn, namely, the corporations that seek to convert the government into a business asset. The Democratic party stands for the doctrine of equal rights to all and special privileges to none, and therefore cannot promise our voters to favor seeking corporations. If it made such promises to the corporations it would be guilty of duplicity, for it would have to betray the voters as the Republican party has done, in order to reward those corporations as the Republican party has rewarded them.

"The Democratic campaign must be carried on by volunteers who will work because they desire the triumph of Democratic ideas. We cannot hope to appeal to the sordid or to buy the purchasable, even if such a course would contribute toward Democratic success.

"No one should favor Mr. Bryan's nomination unless the party is willing to open its books and show where its contributions come from and for what the money is expended. The Republican party ought to be challenged to conduct its campaign in this open and honest way and if the Republican leaders refuse to accept the challenge the Democrats can well afford to leave the issue with the public.

"It only remains for the Democratic party to convince the voters that it can be trusted with the work of reform and nothing will do more to convince the public than a refusal to negotiate with predatory wealth and an honest appeal by honest methods to the honest sentiment of the country."

SHOOTS BROTHER-IN-LAW AFTER LONG QUARREL

STOCKTON, Cal., Nov. 14.—As the result of a family row, Giovanni Isaia tonight shot and killed his brother-in-law, George Barberis, on the ranch of the latter about three miles east of this city. The two have had considerable trouble of late. Tonight a dispute arose, and Isaia secured a double barreled shotgun loaded with buck shot and fired at close range, tearing a great hole in the right side of his relative. The murderer was captured and brought to the local jail. The deceased leaves a wife.

The murderer in telling his story through an interpreter did not appear to realize his serious position.

VAN ORSDEL SUCCEEDS JUDGE M'COMAS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—The vacancy on the bench of the Court of Appeals of the District of Columbia, caused by the death of Judge McComas, was filled today by the appointment of Josiah A. Van Orsdel, assistant attorney general in the department of justice in charge of work before the court of claims. Mr. Van Orsdel was appointed to his present position from Wyoming, February, 1906.

ROCK ISLAND WILL ACCEPT TWO CENTS

GUTHRIE, Okla., Nov. 14.—The Rock Island will accept the 2 cent railroad fare provision of the Oklahoma constitution which goes into effect. This statement was made frankly and without hesitation by B. F. Winchell, president of the Rock Island system on conference with Guthrie city officials today.

MRS. TERRELL DENIES STATEMENT REGARDING HOUSEHOLD MORALS

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 14.—On the morning of November 2nd, it was published throughout the country that Mrs. Mary Church Terrell, colored, in an address at Battle Creek, Mich., had said that "No servant girl was safe in the home of white people." Today a Nashville paper published a card from Mrs. Terrell, in which she says:

"Although it was not definitely stated that I confined my remarks to the white people of the South, the general impression throughout the country is that I did so. I wish to affirm in the most emphatic and positive language possible that I not only made no such statement at Battle Creek, but I never made any such wild, sweeping and false statement anywhere in my life."

PHIPPS MAY ERECT MANY CONCRETE TENEMENT HOUSES

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—Henry P. Phipps, the wealthy steel manufacturer, who in 1905 gave $1,000,000 for the erection of model tenements in New York city, is greatly interested in the possibility of the two-families concrete house planned by Thomas A. Edison, the inventor, and which, it is claimed, can be built within twelve hours at a cost of $1000 to $1200.

Mr. Edison will have the model for a full size double residence cast this winter and as soon as the frost is out of the ground next spring he will build one of the houses near his laboratory. If it proves satisfactory Mr. Phipps will probably in co-operation with other wealthy men, erect a large number of these houses near New York city, a city of concrete.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 14.—Joseph Crimmins, brother of Phil Crimmins, the well known politician was asphyxiated this morning at the home of his sister, Mrs. Margaret Campbell. Death was accidental, the gas having escaped from a defect in the fixture. Crimmins was 53 years of age and had figured in local politics for many years.

PEOPLE OF THE GRANT WILL BE FRESNO GUESTS

Big Excursion Will Be Run From Laton Tomorrow Morning and Visitors Will Be Shown County Institutions.

The people of the Grant and contiguous country are to be Fresno's guests tomorrow. They are coming in a special train and there will be between 500 and 600. They come upon the invitation of the Promotion Committee to spend the day in the county seat, to be given an opportunity to see the public institutions and to be given occular evidence of the advantages of being a part of a county that has provided the permanent things in the way of public improvements that have to be built but once. It is to be a sort of confirmation. Many of these settlers were attracted to this county by the magic name and fame of Fresno and they have always been unswerving in their loyalty. Kings county has used every device known to try to stir up discontent among these people, and Fresno is simply going to "show them."

Senator Curtwright, as chairman of the committee, has sent a personal letter to every man in the district, asking himself and family to be Fresno's guest for tomorrow. With each letter was enclosed a postal card for the acceptance, and these cards were to be mailed to A. G. Smith of Laton. From cards received Mr. Smith is confident the excursion will bring 600 people or possibly more.

The train will start from Laton promptly at 9 o'clock and will make a direct and quick run into Fresno. A. G. Smith, J. W. Herbert, J. C. Pottle will be in charge of the excursion, assisted by a number of Fresno gentlemen, including Senator Cartwright, J. E. Dickinson and others.

The excursionists will be met at the Santa Fe station by electric cars and a run will be made out to Sunnyside. On the return a stop will be made at Recreation Park, and the visitors will be given an opportunity to thoroughly inspect the handsome Mission hospital, the substantial almshouse in similar architectural style, the fair grounds, owned by the county, and the county orphanage, also publicly owned. Of course, the purpose of this is to remind the visitors that they have helped pay for these improvements and that if county division should carry because of the apathy of the friends of the county, they would be taxed for like institutions in "Baby Kings."

Returning to town, the excursionists will be the guests of the ladies of Fresno at a luncheon in the spacious basement of the First Methodist Episcopal Church. Here they will meet many citizens of Fresno and in a social way will have a chance to "talk things over." Senator Cartwright will also give some reasons why the guests should remain in Fresno county.

After the luncheon, the visitors will be guests for an automobile spin out Kearney avenue, to Kearney Park, which is destined in the near future to be the site of a great public institution. The committee desires as many automobiles as can be obtained and citizens who can furnish cars are requested to have them at the church promptly at 1 o'clock.

Those who do not take the Kearney Park excursion will be the guests of the merchants and citizens of Fresno generally. The committee desires each one to feel that he or she has all the privileges of a guest and for all to "make themselves at home."

The special train will leave on the return at 4:30 o'clock in the afternoon.

It is proposed to give the visitors a royal welcome and a jolly good time. A brass band will welcome them with music and will play at the luncheon.

SPEND DAY IN FRESNO SAYS THE COMMITTEE

The Promotion Committee's invitation to spend a day in Fresno is as follows:

My Dear Sir—

The Fresno County Promotion Committee, appointed by the Chamber of Commerce, has arranged for a free excursion from Laton to Fresno City on Saturday, November 16th, 1907.

Our special train will leave the Laton depot at nine o'clock in the morning of that day and a return train will leave Fresno at about 4:30 in the afternoon.

We contemplate taking the excursionists on a general pleasure and sight-seeing trip to Recreation Park, to Kearney Park, to the County Hospital and grounds, and to other public institutions of the county and to various points of interest in the City of Fresno. We will give our excursionists a royal good time and close with music and a banquet.

You and your family are cordially invited to attend. All expenses will be paid by the committee. We enclose a postal card addressed to Judge A. G. Smith of Laton. If you find it convenient to be with us on that occasion, kindly sign the postal card, write in the number of friends who will be with you and mail card to Judge A. G. Smith of Laton, so that we may know just how many to provide for.

Cordially yours,
G. W. CARTWRIGHT,
Chairman of Committee.

WOUNDED MAN DRAGGED AWAY TO DIE ALONE

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 14.—Henry Twight, a teamster, was shot and fatally wounded at Johannesburg last Tuesday morning by another teamster, whom Twight says is named Warren. Twight was brought here today in a dying condition. Two bullets had penetrated the body. Twight said that he was shot following a row in a saloon and that after the shooting friends of his assailant dragged him to a vacant lot where they left him and where he remained undiscovered until yesterday.

CURED OF INSANITY HE MUST STAND TRIAL FOR EMBEZZLEMENT

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Nov. 14.—After four months' confinement in the state hospital for the insane at Patton, Douglas Dawson, former manager of the William H. Hoegee Company's big sporting goods store, has been pronounced cured by the hospital authorities, and will be brought to Los Angeles tomorrow by a deputy sheriff to stand trial on the charge of embezzling $1730 of the Hoegee Company's money. Judge B. N. Smith of the criminal division of the Superior court, before whom Dawson's trial on the insanity charge was held July 9th, has been notified of the new development in the case and probably will set the trial for an early date at the expiration of the holidays.

POLICEMAN ARRESTS HOTEL CLERK FOR SIGNING GUEST'S NAME

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 14.—Patrolman William Nealon today arrested John Sweberg, clerk at the Russ house, First and Los Angeles streets, on a charge of forgery because he signed the name of a man too intoxicated to write upon the register.

Attorney Fred Thompson, owner of the Russ house, secured a dismissal of the charge, not, however, until Nealon had attempted to secure a complaint and was refused.

Noted Song Writer Dies

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 14. — Juliette Estelle Prescott Mathis, 68 years of age, a poetess and song writer, well known on the Pacific coast and in Illinois, her former home, died here today at the home of her son, Frank C. Prescott, registrar of the United States Land Office.

Arnold Has Nothing to Say

TOPEKA, Kas., Nov. 14.—E. C. Arnold who disappeared from Los Angeles last week, the day before the one set for his wedding to Miss Packard of that city, returned to Topeka today and is prostrated, sick in bed, at his mother's home. He refuses to say anything about his conduct.

DENVER, Col., Nov. 14.—Attorney General Wm. H. Dickson began an action under the common law in the Denver district court today with a view to breaking up the so-called grocers' trust operating in Colorado.

THE DEMAND FOR TREASURY NOTES STILL CONTINUES.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—Treasury department officials are greatly pleased that applications for additional treasury note circulation continue to be received from national banks in all parts of the country. From the first of the month up to last Saturday shipments of additional bank notes had actually been made to the amount of $11,182,150. On Monday this amount was increased by $2,682,850, and on Tuesday by $2,099,870, so that the total to date is $16,344,970.

Invents New Aeroplane.

PARIS, Nov. 13.—M. Santos Dumont has just completed the construction of a new aeroplane on a principle different from that previously employed by him. The no wmachine is shaped like a butterfly. The trials already held, when it was towed by an automobile, have been successful. The engine will be installed and the new machine launched as soon as the weather permits.

French Not on Tariff

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—Ambassador Jusserand today presented to Secretary Root a formal reply to a proposition outlined by this government for an amendment to the tariff modus vivendi with France which will expire on December 1. Secretary Root has not yet read the reply, but it will be communicated immediately to the Bureau of Trade Relations and also to the departments of the treasury and commerce and labor.

Raymond Hitchcock Case

NEW YORK, Nov. 13. — Raymond Hitchcock, the actor, appeared before Judge Russlaky, in the court of general sessions today to plea dto the six indictments handed down against him by the grand jury. A further adjournment of the pleading for one week was granted. An application was also made for leave to inspect the minutes of the grand jury. Action on this request will be taken later in the week.

National W. C. T. U. Adjourns

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 13.—The annual convention of the W. C. T. U. adjourned late last night. The closing hours were devoted to the annual rally for the most successful states. Twenty states participated, headed by Oklahoma and Georgia. The next meeting place will be decided at a meeting of the national officers tomorrow.

After Foreign Corporations.

BATON ROUGE, La., Nov. 13.—The State Senate today passed a bill prohibiting foreign corporations from filing or transferring cases to the Federal courts on penalty of disbarment from the State. There was only one vote against the measure, which was the first of the proposed reforms to be presented at the extra session.

Forty Horses Burned

SALT LAKE CITY, Nov. 13.—Forty horses were burned and a loss of $190,000 sustained by the destruction of the Redman Van and Storage company's barn and warehouse by fire tonight. The warehouse was filled with valuable goods. Nothing was saved. Three firemen were injured, two by a falling wall.

SAN JOSE, Nov. 14.—Sheriff Langford this afternoon went to Stanford university to take charge of the shotgun found in the lake, beneath the spot where Silent's body was found several weeks ago. No new facts have developed in the tragedy.

WILLIE HELM WAS IN CONSPIRACY WITH TWO OTHERS TO BREAK JAIL

Sensational Testimony Is Brought Out at the Preliminary Examination of Emil Schultz, Who Sawed His Way Out of Jail Last August—Alarm Clock Spring Used as Saw—Helm Had Knife.

Emil Schultz, confined in the county jail, was given a preliminary hearing yesterday before City Justice Graham on the technical charge of injuring a county jail and was held to answer to the superior court. The hearing developed for the first time the details connected with the sensational attempted jail break on August 3rd, which was nipped in the bud by the alertness of Sheriff Chittenden's deputies, combined with more than a little luck.

Schultz is the man who was seen by Deputy Maher to emerge from the skylight on the roof of the jail and who, confronted by the deputy's gun, promptly crawled back along the roof to safety within the bastile. He offers no excuse for his break for liberty other than that he was not being given sufficient food and thought it would be better to take chances on escaping than to undergo the pangs of starvation.

Deputy Maher, a witness at the examination yesterday, told of Schultz's escapade and of admissions made to him by Schultz in regard to it, but the sensational testimony was given by Harry Roberts, a prisoner serving a six months' term for petty larceny. On the witness stand Roberts said that Willie Helm and Jeff Shannon, who were confined in that part of the jail when he was admitted, told him of a conspiracy to break jail and showed him two bars of the iron latticed roof sawn through, giving him details of how they had been working at the job for some time and the plans for escape. Roberts said that when Schultz came to the jail Helm and Shannon confided in him and found him a willing conspirator and that thereafter Schultz worked at the job a large part of the time. Helm, Shannon and Schultz tried to induce Roberts and others to join them in the jail break and Shannon manufactured a rope out of blankets to be used in escaping from the roof of the building to the ground outside.

According to Roberts' testimony, Willie Helm and Shannon were in readiness to follow Schultz through the skylight, but were deterred from doing so by Schultz being discovered while he was yet on the roof. Willie Helm had crawled through the aperture made by the sawing through of the iron lattice and Shannon was hiding ready to climb after Helm. The noise of the falling plaster caused Helm and Shannon to hesitate about following closely after Schultz, and when he returned because of Maher's discovery of him they were able to scramble back into their cells.

Roberts testified that, as far as he knew, the would-be jail breakers had not secured any weapons, but he understood Willie Helm had a knife. The saws were fashioned out of a steel alarm clock spring and portions of the used-up saw were afterwards found when plumbers were set to work on the drainage pipes.

The defendant Schultz told Justice Graham that the facts testified to by Roberts were correct and intimated to Deputy District Attorney Hawson, who appeared for the prosecution, that he is ready to enter a plea of guilty in the superior court and take his sentence.

The section of the penal code under which Schultz is proceeded against provides a penalty for damaging or causing injury to county jails, being framed with a view to penalizing all such acts, whether committed by prisoners within the jail or by mobs or accomplices on the outside. The penalty provided is a fine of $10,000 and imprisonment for five years in the state prison.

"SLEEPING SICKNESS" EFFECTIVELY FOUGHT

Professor Koch Announces Results of His Investigations Into Strange Malady.

BERLIN, Nov. 13.—Professor Robert Koch, upon whom Emperor William today conferred the title of Excellency, in recognition of his services in discovering the origin and treatment of the African disease known as "sleeping sickness," has set forth in an official report the details of his prolonged investigations into the Victoria Nyanza region. He supplements the general results previously cabled by giving a statistical comparison showing that only about eight per cent of the sleepers treated with an atoxyl injection died, whereas a great majority of the untreated sleepers who arrived at the Mission stations, died.

Prof. Koch's investigations show that the fly which causes the "sleeping sickness" subsists on the blood of reptiles and animals and cannot live without it for more than three or four days. The microscope showed that the blood sucked by the flies was chiefly of crocodiles. The professor, therefore, recommends a bounty on crocodile eggs in order to enable the natives to exterminate them. It would be comparatively easy since the crocodiles have certain well marked breeding grounds in the Nyanza district, where the eggs can easily be collected.

Prof. Koch also suggests clearing away the timber around the watering places near the forts and villages where the natives gather, because the flies cannot endure sunlight and seek the dark, damp undergrowth.

CREDITORS WANT A NEW RECEIVER

CINCINNATI, Nov. 13.—Involuntary bankruptcy proceedings were filed in the United States District court here today against the Friend Paper company of West Carrollton, Ohio, a company reputed to be worth several million dollars. The plaintiffs are Eastern creditors, who state that the best interests of the creditors in general demand that the company be taken from the hands of a receiver who was named for it by the Common Pleas court of Montgomery county, October 30th, on the petition of James H. Friend, president of the company, on allegations admitted in an answer made by the secretary of the company, who stated the debts amounted to $1,500,000, and that the assets are not equal to the obligations.

GERMANY REFUSES TO CONCERT WITH SPAIN AND FRANCE

PARIS, Nov. 14.—The Matin declares that the reply of Germany to the Spanish and French note proposing an international commission to examine into the claims for damages arising from the bombardment of Casa Blanca by French and Spanish warships, similar to the Alexandria commission of 1882, is unfavorable. It presents obstacles to the speedy settlement of the question and demands in addition a separate German commission to settle the claims of German merchants.

LUMBER RATE SUIT HAS BEEN FILED

Action Brought to Break Up Railroad Combination That Dictates Schedules.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—The complaint prepared by the North Pacific Lumber associations charging discrimination and illegal concern of action against practically all the important Western and Northwestern railroads was filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission today. It asserts that the Union Pacific and other Western and Northwestern lines, by concert of action, absolutely fix and maintain freight rates on all forest products from the Pacific Northwest to Eastern destinations. It alleges that the great Northern and the Northern Pacific dominate and control the Burlington Company through ownership of its stock, that the Union Pacific dominates and controls the Oregon Railroad and Navigation Company, the Oregon Short Line and the Southern Pacific by virtue of ownership of the majority of their capital stock and by other devices and arrangements, so that there is no competition between them; that the Southern Pacific dominates and controls the Oregon and California and the Corvallis and Eastern companies, through ownership of the majority of the railroad stock by lease or otherwise.

It is asserted that the railroads have advanced rates 5 to 10 cents per hundred, effective on November 1, on all forest products. That the rates are excessive, and discriminatory and that if exacted the lumber industry of the Northwest will be seriously injured if not destroyed. The complainants aver that they have $60,000,000 capital invested in their industries and employ 40,000 people, that their annual payroll aggregates $20,000,000 and that they pay in freight, $12,000,000 annually for 30,000 carloads of forest products. They also allege that the railroads are jointly imposing excessive rates on shippers in order to pay dividends on excessive stock and bond issues.

The commission is asked to adjust these rates fairly and equitably.

CORPORATION BURDEN SHIFTED TO PUBLIC

President of New England Railroad Declares That Present Is Not a Rich Man's Panic.

HARTFORD, Conn, Nov. 13.—In addressing the members of the National Grange, and their friends, at a public meeting tonight, President Charles S. Mellen of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad, said:

"The prejudice excited by demagogues and politicians against corporations has now reached a stage where others are suffering. The burden which has rested so long and heavily on corporations and those charged with their affairs, is being shifted and the community will soon have its own troubles to worry about.

"The losses in value, credit and fortunes in this country since the beginning of this year have been greater than occurred as a result of the civil war.

"This is not a rich man's panic; it is a widespread distress rapidly extending itself to the farthest sections of the country. Even those who did not know the gun was loaded, whose only thought was sensation and popularity, are becoming sobered by the outlook."

UNION PACIFIC DISCIPLINES FARMER FOR RATE BEATING

CHAPPELL, Neb., Nov. 13.—Attorney General Thompson today started suit against the Union Pacific railroad alleging discrimination against E. W. Jacobs, who was disciplined by the road for driving his cattle into Nebraska to take advantage of reduced rates. Jacobs ordered cars at Big Springs and after he reached that place with his cattle was compelled to pasture them about in the hills for twenty-five days before he could secure cars. In the meantime shippers on either side of Big Springs secured the cars. The penalty for violation of the discrimination clause of the commission law is not less than $100 nor more than $5,000.

DANGER IN DELAY.

Kidney Diseases Are Too Dangerous For Fresno People to Neglect

The great danger of kidney troubles is that they get a firm hold before the sufferer recognizes them. Health is gradually undermined. Backache, headache, nervousness, lameness, soreness, lumbago, urinary troubles, dropsy, diabetes and Bright's disease follow in merciless succession. Don't neglect your kidneys. Cure the kidneys with the certain and safe remedy, Doan's Kidney Pills, which has cured people right here in Fresno.

Mrs. J. B. McGinnes, living on P St. Fresno, Calif., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills proved of great value to my husband. He had been suffering for some time from kidney disease and nothing seemed to help him. He complained of his back hurting him and accompanying this was an irregular action of the kidneys. After reading an account in the papers of Doan's Kidney Pills, and deciding to give them a trial, he procured a box at Huber and Colson's Drug Store. In less than a week he felt the beneficial effects and from that time on he improved steadily. He is now as well as ever and enjoying perfect health. I am glad to say for him that Doan's Kidney Pills do all that is claimed for them."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Attorney's Glasses

The attorney asks for glasses with which he can see to the far end of the court, address his learned brothers, and instruct juries. He asks that the same glasses with which he sees distant objects so distinctly shall also enable him to make notes rapidly, to read the smallest print easily, and to scrutinize distinctly written matter.

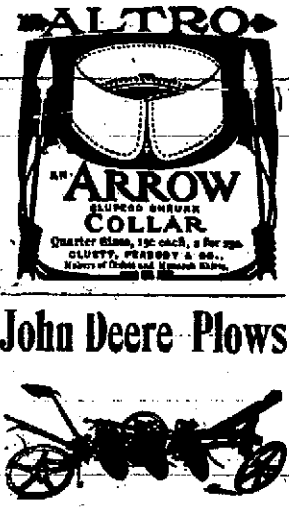

He asks that he be spared the annoyance of two pairs of glasses—that he be saved from the ugliness and irritation of those far-and-near lenses that have lines crossing them or pieces pasted upon them.

He asks for relief from eye-strain; he asks for easy, restful vision, whether far or near, in one pair of glasses.

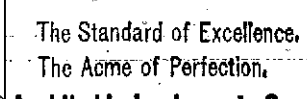

Let him wear RETFO-KRYPTOKS, and all these advantages are his.

WATTS WILL SIGNED SAYS ATTORNEY

Whole Estate Left to Relative In Texas.

Pioneer Died Before He Could Give Details of His Possessions.

A new turn was given to the Watts estate controversy yesterday by the announcement by Attorney N. C. Coldwell that the will was, as a matter of fact, signed by the testator, and that it leaves the whole estate to a relative in Texas. The will will be filed in due season, and of course will knock out the public administrator's petition, which is based on the belief that the will was not signed. Mr. Coldwell says he had arranged to visit Watts the day after the making of the will, not for the purpose of having it signed, but to learn about the details of the estate.

Mr. Coldwell sets forth his position in the following communication.

Editor Republican: There appears in your issue of this morning a publication concerning my connection, or supposed connection, with the estate of Charles B. Watts and Mrs. Herriott.

I am astonished to find that you thought there was anything in my repute as a citizen or as a lawyer which could justify that publication. That publication lays you open to the suspicion of exploiting one attorney at the expense of another, and of attempting to forestall criticism of the conduct of one attorney by causeless slurs upon another.

Why did you not make some inquiry of me? I am a resident of this city, with a home and office here, and could have been easily found.

The publication is unfriendly, unkind, unjust and untrue.

Mr. Watts did not leave an estate valued at from $40,000 to $60,000, and I would be surprised to know that his estate was of a value greater than $4000.

The public administrator was not able to learn from me the details of the Watts estate—not because I refused to communicate to him such details, but because no such details were within my knowledge; nor did the public administrator make any inquiry of me concerning that estate.

I was not the attorney for Charles B. Watts, and the only official service that I ever performed for him was the writing of his last will and testament.

The signing of the will was not postponed until the morning following its writing; but it was arranged that I should visit Mr. Watts on that morning for the purpose of being informed by him of the details of his estate.

That last will and testament was signed by Mr. Watts, duly published, acknowledged and declared, and the same is now in my possession.

I was not named as executor in that will; upon the contrary, notwithstanding the repeated request made upon me by Mr. Watts to act as such executor, I positively declined, and this declination was made in the presence of at least a dozen people.

The executor named in that will has not filed a "hurry up" petition for letters in the estate, for the reason that he is at this time engaged in performing the last offices for the dead, who was his life-long friend, and today the executor laid the old man to rest in the hills he loved so well, and among his old neighbors, who had loved him so long.

The paucity of details in the petition of the public administrator is not due to the reticence of the lawyer, nor to the lawyer's chagrin at having lost a nice plum in prospective fees. The lawyer has not lost any plum, "nice" or otherwise; and the lawyer did not exercise any reticence because no inquiry was made of him; the paucity of details in the public administrator's petition should rather be attributed to the haste with which that petition was filed—a haste which you have very properly characterized as "hurry up."

There is a story in "legal circles," but that story is not concerned with how Mr. Coldwell lost an employment in a probate case, but, rather, is concerned with how the attorney for the public administrator gained one.

I was not the attorney of Mrs. Herriott in her lifetime; I had no acquaintance with that lady, and if I ever saw her I have no memory of the fact.

I did not expect, and had no grounds for expecting a retainer in the administration of that estate; and, in fact, I did not know that there was any estate to administer, or that Mrs. Herriott was dead until after the public administrator, as you say, had "waived" his rights in favor of Lane; and, as you say, had refused to make a "single waiver" for his attorney.

You have seen fit to say that the Watts case coming on top of the Herriott case has not left him (meaning Mr. Coldwell) in happy relations with Providence. Like all men of thoughtful and reverential natures—and I hope I am such—I am anxious at all times to be in happy relation with that great Providence, in Whose hands we rest and Whose creatures we are. If nothing other than those cases has disturbed those happy relations, which I so ardently desire, I am, indeed, a happy man.

My conduct in these matters has put me in happy relation with myself, and with my brother attorneys, and, I trust, with Providence.

If the public administrator and his attorney desire to invoke the judgment of those who are within "legal circles" or of the courts, or of the public, I stand ready to furnish the grounds of my own sentiments on the subject, which at this time are those of unmitigated contempt. Respectfully yours,

N. C. COLDWELL.

Fresno, Nov. 14, 1907.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE OF REPUBLICAN CLUB

The appointed executive committee of the Fresno Lincoln-Roosevelt Republican club is announced to be as follows: George W. Jones president; George Gosgrave, vice-president; Ernest Kleeto, secretary; Charles Erickson, W. A. Sutherland, A. M. Drew and Hayden W. Jones. The three first named are ex-officio of the committee.

FEDERAL SESSION DRAWING TO CLOSE

Today Will Be Given Over to Chaddock Case.

Next Sitting of the Court in May, 1908, Will Be Held In New Federal Building.

The case of the United States consolidated seeded raisin company against Chaddock & Co., for alleged infringement of the Petit raisin seeder patent will be called this morning by Judge Wellborn. The agreement yesterday was that Attorneys Miller and Cory would each take up three hours in the presentation of their case on the depositions taken and the arguments of the law points involved. The judge has announced a willingness to hold a night session to dispose of the present calendar. The attorneys in the seeder case said they would close their case today. The only other matter pending thereafter is the M. C. Jones contempt citation in the ex-policeman's bankruptcy case. Judge Wellborn expects to return to Los Angeles on Saturday. The next term of the federal court here will be on the first Monday in May and it is confidently expected that the sitting will be in the post-office building.

Insanity Proof Lacking.

Judgment for the defendant was awarded by Judge Wellborn in the suit of the widow, Laura M. Renne, and three children to recover $2000 on the insurance policy in the Woodmen of the World of John A. Watkins, who was a member of a camp at Bakersfield and committed suicide in Los Angeles in February 1902, two months and twenty days after he had joined the order. Judgment went for the defendant, because it was not proven according to the laws of the order that the insured was insane and unsound of mind for seven days before the act of suicide. Watkins asphyxiated himself while seated in a chair in the kitchen of his home, having as the proof showed made preparations for the deed and laboriously detached the gas tube from the stove.

From Pillar to Post.

Judge Wellborn has under advisement a motion to remand to the state court the suit of Miss Edith G. Ostrander, daughter of F. G. Ostrander, the attorney at law of Merced, against W. R. Hearst of the San Francisco Examiner for alleged libel growing out of a published report of a university caper in which it was incorrectly stated that Miss Ostrander was a party. The suit was originally in the Merced Superior court, then transferred to the federal court on motion of the defendant, and now to be remanded to the state tribunal at request of the plaintiff.

Up for Sixty Days.

William Kennedy, an Indian, who has been in jail 120 days for selling liquor to wards of Uncle Sam on the Tule river reservation, twenty miles from Porterville in Tulare county, pleaded guilty yesterday and was sentenced to sixty days imprisonment and a fine of $100. The fine he can never pay. After finishing the imprisonment sentence he will take the poor man's oath and be released. The Indian is a co-defendant of the Mrs. Appendauer, who was indicted for the same offense last Monday.

For Non-Delivery.

The trial yesterday afternoon was that of the case of the Western Grocer company of Missouri against the Fresno canning association to recover $2215 for non-delivery of goods, contracted to be furnished during the season of 1901 to two firms in Kansas City, who bought through the plaintiff as a commission broker. The case has no public interest and the point involved is whether A. L. McCray, who made the arrangements with the broker, had authority so to do as the agent of the local company.

Used Cancelled Stamp.

Deputy Marshal Coyle arrested yesterday Lazaro Martinovich on the bench warrant issued on the indictment accusing him of using a cancelled postage stamp on a letter that he had mailed. Martinovich is a dishwasher in the Cosmopolitan restaurant on Mariposa street.

Upon the report filed yesterday of W. J. Tinnin, referee in bankruptcy, Judge Wellborn ordered the final discharge in bankruptcy of John Jonsan, Jr., now of Long Beach, and formerly of this city.

FRESNO HIGH WANTS DEBATE WITH MADERA

At a meeting of the high school student body yesterday, it was decided to challenge Madera high school for a joint debate, a committee of two from the assembly being appointed for the purpose of drawing up and submitting the challenge. It is probable that the debate will be gladly taken up by the Maderans, as they have worsted the local school in more than one such encounter in the past. Still, debating here is on a new footing this year, making the promoters of the idea very hopeful of success.

Editor Edwin Einstein, of the Owl, announced that the November issue of the paper will appear on next Tuesday. It is to be a special football edition. In his capacity as "yell leader," he also urged more enthusiasm over the football game with Tulare high school, scheduled for tomorrow.

President Collins appointed the following as committee for entertainment at the next regular meeting of the student body: Charles Porter, chairman; Miss Vogel and Miss Rowell.

The following program was rendered:

1. Selection by the high school orchestra.
2. Vocal solo by Miss Meade, accompanied by Miss Ena Deyo.
3. Piano solo by Claude Timmins.
4. Vocal solo by Rex Keefer, playing his own accompaniment.
5. Selection by the orchestra.

After the meeting, a short session for the rooters was held, to practice yells for Saturday's game. As usual, the meeting was poorly attended, breaking up for lack of body after about the first yell was run through.

Two Bids Received to Furnish Fuel Oil to the County Institutions.

A. L. Selig of Los Angeles, representing the Kings River Power company appeared before the supervisors yesterday and made a plea in view of the financial flurry for an extension of time until next July for the performance of its agreement of May, 1906, with the county to construct within twelve months thereafter a wagonroad bridge to cost not less than $15,000 across the Kings river at Trimmer Springs.

The company is erecting a large reservoir site in the mountains, and on the representation that its improvements would materially add to the taxable property of the county made an agreement with the supervisors that if they would construct into the canyon a road around Round and Trimmer hills it would in turn erect the bridge and when completed give it to the county as a public property. Mr. Selig stated that on account of the financial disturbance the company has been prevented for the time being from borrowing money or selling bonds.

For that reason it has had to suspend operations in part, alter its plans and reduce its expenditures to the minimum, and for that reason it wanted the extension and until the times are bettered and they can realize money to proceed with their work. Mr. Selig said that the company has no intention of abandoning the bridge project, which is absolutely necessary for its reservoir project but is anxious to complete its project and realize active returns on its invested capital.

Attention was called to the fact that the company is under no bond to the county to perform its contract, and as Supervisor Johnson pointed out, there is no guaranty that it will not come again next July and ask for another extension.

Mr. Selig admitted that this was so, but he hoped the condition of affairs would be improved by then and said the company could not afford and does not intend to abandon the work that it has so far undertaken and carried out at great expense.

Supervisors Trall and Mitchell both reported that the company has faithfully carried out the road work that it had undertaken and the extension of time was voted.

Bids For County Oil

Two bids were received and opened by the board for the delivery of fuel oil at the county courthouse and the hospital. The bid of the Associated Oil company, represented by Calvin S. Hill, was $1.10 per barrel delivered in tank wagons at the courthouse and $1.15 at the hospital. The offer of the Sunset Road Oil company by H. A. Blodgett of Bakersfield was $1.12 per barrel delivered at either place in quantities and at times as required. The tenders were taken under advisement until tomorrow morning. Mr. Hill urged that notwithstanding the difference in prices for deliveries from the storage tank on the southern Pacific reservation, his offer should have the preference because of superior ability to make deliveries, the Associated having its own equipage of 600 oil cars, making it unlikely to suffer the inconveniences of non-delivery by reason of car shortage as experienced last winter.

PEOPLE OF THE GRANT WILL BE FRESNO GUESTS

Big Excursion Will Be Run From Laton Tomorrow Morning and Visitors Will Be Shown County Institutions.

The people of the Grant and contiguous country are to be Fresno's guests tomorrow. They are coming in a special train and there will be between 500 and 600. They come upon the invitation of the Promotion Committee to spend the day in the county seat, to be given an opportunity to see the public institutions and to be given ocular evidence of the advantages of being a part of a county that has provided the permanent things in the way of public improvements that have to be built but once. It is to be a sort of confirmation. Many of these settlers were attracted to this county by the magic name and fame of Fresno and they have always been unswerving in their loyalty. Kings county has used every device known to try to stir up discontent among these people, and Fresno is simply going to "show them."

Senator Cartwright, as chairman of the committee, has sent a personal letter to every man in the district, asking himself and family to be Fresno's guest for tomorrow. With each letter was enclosed a postal card for the acceptance, and these cards were to be mailed to A. G. Smith of Laton. From cards received Mr. Smith is confident the excursion will bring 600 people or possibly more.

The train will start from Laton promptly at 9 o'clock and will make a direct and quick run into Fresno. A. G. Smith, J. W. Herbert, J. C. Pottle will be in charge of the excursion, assisted by a number of Fresno gentlemen, including Senator Cartwright, J. E. Dickinson and others.

The excursionists will be met at the Santa Fe station by electric cars and a run will be made out to Sunnyside. On the return a stop will be made at Recreation Park, and the visitors will be given an opportunity to thoroughly inspect the handsome Mission hospital, the substantial almshouse in similar architectural style, the fair grounds, owned by the county, and the county orphanage, also publicly owned. Of course, the purpose of this is to remind the visitors that they have helped pay for these improvements and that if county division should carry because of the apathy of the friends of the county, they would be taxed for like institutions in "Baby Kings."

Returning to town, the excursionists will be the guests of the ladies of Fresno at a luncheon in the spacious basement of the First Methodist Episcopal Church. Here they will meet many citizens of Fresno and in a social way will have a chance to "talk things over." Senator Cartwright will also give some reasons why the guests should remain in Fresno county.

After the luncheon, the visitors will be guests for an automobile spin out Kearney avenue, to Kearney Park, which is destined in the near future to be the site of a great public institution. The committee desires as many automobiles as can be obtained and citizens who can furnish cars are requested to have them at the church promptly at 1 o'clock.

Those who do not take the Kearney Park excursion will be the guests of the merchants and citizens of Fresno generally. The committee desires each one to feel that he or she has all the privileges of a guest and for all to "make themselves at home."

The special train will leave on the return at 4:30 o'clock in the afternoon.

It is proposed to give the visitors a royal welcome and a jolly good time. A brass band will welcome them with music and will play at the luncheon.

SPEND DAY IN FRESNO SAYS THE COMMITTEE

The Promotion Committee's invitation to spend a day in Fresno is as follows:

My Dear Sir—

The Fresno County Promotion Committee, appointed by the Chamber of Commerce, has arranged for a free excursion from Laton to Fresno City on Saturday, November 16th, 1907.

Our special train will leave the Laton depot at nine o'clock in the morning of that day and a return train will leave Fresno at about 4:30 in the afternoon.

We contemplate taking the excursionists on a general pleasure and sight-seeing trip to Recreation Park, to Kearney Park, to the County Hospital and grounds, and to other public institutions of the county and to various points of interest in the City of Fresno. We will give our excursionists a royal good time and close with music and a banquet.

You and your family are cordially invited to attend. All expenses will be paid by the committee. We enclose a postal card addressed to Judge A. G. Smith of Laton. If you find it convenient to be with us on that occasion, kindly sign the postal card, write in the number of friends who will be with you and mail card to Judge A. G. Smith of Laton, so that we may know just how many to provide for.

Cordially yours,
G. W. CARTWRIGHT,
Chairman of Committee.

WOUNDED MAN DRAGGED AWAY TO DIE ALONE

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 14.—Henry Twight, a teamster, was shot and fatally wounded at Johannesburg last Tuesday morning by another teamster, whom Twight says is named Warren. Twight was brought here today in a dying condition. Two bullets had penetrated the body. Twight said that he was shot following a row in a saloon and that after the shooting friends of his assailant dragged him to a vacant lot where they left him and where he remained undiscovered until yesterday.

CURED OF INSANITY HE MUST STAND TRIAL FOR EMBEZZLEMENT

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Nov. 14.—After four months' confinement in the state hospital for the insane at Patton, Douglas Dawson, former manager of the William H. Hoegee Company's big sporting goods store, has been pronounced cured by the hospital authorities and will be brought to Los Angeles tomorrow by a deputy sheriff to stand trial on the charge of embezzling $1730 of the Hoegee Company's money. Judge B. N. Smith of the criminal division of the Superior court, before whom Dawson's trial on the insanity charge was held July 9th, has been notified of the new development in the case and probably will set the trial for an early date at the expiration of the holidays.

POLICEMAN ARRESTS HOTEL CLERK FOR SIGNING GUEST'S NAME

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 14.—Patrolman William Nealon today arrested John Sweberg, clerk at the Russ house, First and Los Angeles streets, on a charge of forgery because he signed the name of a man too intoxicated to write upon the register.

Attorney Fred Thompson, owner of the Russ house, secured a dismissal of the charge, not, however, until Nealon had attempted to secure a complaint and was refused.

WILLIE HELM WAS IN CONSPIRACY WITH TWO OTHERS TO BREAK JAIL

Sensational Testimony Is Brought Out at the Preliminary Examination of Emil Schultz, Who Sawed His Way Out of Jail Last August—Alarm Clock Spring Used as Saw—Helm Had Knife.

Emil Schultz, confined in the county jail, was given a preliminary hearing yesterday before City Justice Graham on the technical charge of injuring a county jail and was held to answer to the superior court. The hearing developed for the first time the details connected with the sensational attempted jail break on August 3rd, which was nipped in the bud by the alertness of Sheriff Chittenden's deputies, combined with more than a little luck.

Schultz is the man who was seen by Deputy Maher to emerge from the skylight on the roof of the jail and who, confronted by the deputy's gun, promptly crawled back along the roof to safety within the bastile. He offers no excuse for his break for liberty other than that he was not being given sufficient food and thought it would be better to take chances on escaping than to undergo the pangs of starvation.

Deputy Maher, a witness at the examination yesterday, told of Schultz's escapade and of admissions made to him by Schultz in regard to it, but the sensational testimony was given by Harry Roberts, a prisoner serving a six months' term for petty larceny. On the witness stand Roberts said that Willie Helm and Jeff Shannon, who were confined in that part of the jail when he was admitted, told him of a conspiracy to break jail and showed him two bars of the iron latticed roof sawn through, giving him details of how they had been working at the job for some time and the plans for escape. Roberts said that when Schultz came to the jail Helm and Shannon confided in him and found him a willing conspirator and that thereafter Schultz worked at the job a large part of the time. Helm, Shannon and Schultz tried to induce Roberts and others to join them in the jail break and Shannon manufactured a rope out of blankets to be used in escaping from the roof of the building to the ground outside.

According to Roberts' testimony, Willie Helm and Shannon were in readiness to follow Schultz through the skylight, but were deterred from doing so by Schultz being discovered while he was yet on the roof. Willie Helm had crawled through the aperture made by the sawing through of the iron lattice and Shannon was hiding ready to climb after Helm. The noise of the falling plaster caused Helm and Shannon to hesitate about following closely after Schultz, and when he returned because of Maher's discovery of him they were able to scramble back into their cells.

Roberts testified that, as far as he knew, the would-be jail breakers had not secured any weapons, but he understood Willie Helm had a knife. The saws were fashioned out of a steel alarm clock spring and portions of the used-up saw were afterwards found when plumbers were set to work on the drainage pipes.

The defendant Schultz told Justice Graham that the facts testified to by Roberts were correct and intimated to Deputy District Attorney Hawson, who appeared for the prosecution, that he is ready to enter a plea of guilty in the superior court and take his sentence.

The section of the penal code under which Schultz is proceeded against provides a penalty for damaging or causing injury to county jails, being framed with a view to penalizing all such acts, whether committed by prisoners within the jail or by mobs or accomplices on the outside. The penalty provided is a fine of $10,000 and imprisonment for five years in the state prison.

"SLEEPING SICKNESS" EFFECTIVELY FOUGHT

Professor Koch Announces Results of His Investigations Into Strange Malady.

BERLIN, Nov. 13.—Professor Robert Koch, upon whom Emperor William today conferred the title of Excellency, in recognition of his services in discovering the origin and treatment of the African disease known as "sleeping sickness," has set forth in an official report the details of his prolonged investigations into the Victoria Nyanza region. He supplements the general results previously cabled by giving a statistical comparison showing that only about eight per cent of the sleepers treated with an anatoxyl injection died, whereas a great majority of the untreated sleepers who arrived at the Mission stations, died.

Prof. Koch's investigations show that the fly which causes the "sleeping sickness" subsists on the blood of reptiles and animals and cannot live without it for more than three or four days. The microscope showed that the blood sucked by the flies was chiefly of crocodiles. The professor, therefore, recommends a bounty on crocodile eggs in order to enable the natives to exterminate them. It would be comparatively easy since the crocodiles have certain well marked breeding grounds in the Nyanza district, where the eggs can easily be collected.

Prof. Koch also suggests clearing away the timber around the watering places near the forts and villages where the natives gather, because the flies cannot endure sunlight and seek the dark, damp undergrowth.

CREDITORS WANT A NEW RECEIVER

CINCINNATI, Nov. 13.—Involuntary bankruptcy proceedings were filed in the United States District court here today against the Friend Paper company of West Carrollton, Ohio, a company reputed to be worth several million dollars. The plaintiffs are Eastern creditors, who state that the best interests of the creditors in general demand that the company be taken from the hands of a receiver who was named for it by the Common Pleas court of Montgomery county, October 30th, on the petition of James H. Friend, president of the company, on allegations admitted in an answer made by the secretary of the company, who stated the debts amounted to $1,590,000, and that the assets are not equal to the obligations.

GERMANY REFUSES TO CONCERT WITH SPAIN AND FRANCE

PARIS, Nov. 14.—The Matin declares that the reply of Germany to the Spanish and French note proposing an international commission to examine into the claims for damages arising from the bombardment of Casa Blanca by French and Spanish warships, similar to the Alexandria commission of 1882, is unfavorable. It presents obstacles to the speedy settlement of the question and demands in addition a separate German commission to settle the claims of German merchants.

LUMBER RATE SUIT HAS BEEN FILED

Action Brought to Break Up Railroad Combination That Dictates Schedules.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—The complaint prepared by the North Pacific Lumber associations charging discrimination and illegal concert of action against practically all the important Western and Northwestern railroads was filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission today. It asserts that the Union Pacific and other Western and Northwestern lines, by concert of action, absolutely fix and maintain freight rates on all forest products from the Pacific Northwest to Eastern destinations. It alleges that the great Northern and the Northern Pacific dominate and control the Burlington Company through ownership of its stock, that the Union Pacific dominates and controls the Oregon Railroad and Navigation Company, the Oregon Short Line and the Southern Pacific by virtue of ownership of the majority of their capital stock and by other devices and arrangements, so that there is no competition between them; that the Southern Pacific dominates and controls the Oregon and California and the Corvallis and Eastern companies, through ownership of the majority of the railroad stock by lease or otherwise.

It is asserted that the railroads have advanced rates 5 to 10 cents per hundred, effective on November 1, on all forest products. That the rates are excessive, and discriminatory and that if exacted the lumber industry of the Northwest will be seriously injured if not destroyed. The complainants aver that they have $50,000,000 capital invested in their industries and employ 40,000 people, that their annual payroll aggregates $20,000,000 and that they pay in freight, $12,000,000 annually for 30,000 carloads of forest products. They also allege that the railroads are jointly imposing excessive rates on shippers in order to pay dividends on excessive stock and bond issues.

The commission is asked to adjust these rates fairly and equitably.

CORPORATION BURDEN SHIFTED TO PUBLIC

President of New England Railroad Declares That Present Is Not a Rich Man's Panic.

HARTFORD, Conn., Nov. 13.—In addressing the members of the National Grange, and their friends, at a public meeting tonight, President Charles S. Mellen of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad, said:

"The prejudice excited by demagogues and politicians against corporations has now reached a stage where others are suffering. The burden which has rested so long and heavily on corporations and those charged with their affairs, is being shifted and the community will soon have its own troubles to worry about.

"The losses in value, credit and fortunes in this country since the beginning of this year have been greater than occurred as a result of the civil war.

"This is not a rich man's panic; it is a widespread distress rapidly extending itself to the farthest sections of the country. Even those who did not know the gun was loaded, whose only thought was sensation and popularity, are becoming sobered by the outlook."

UNION PACIFIC DISCIPLINES FARMER FOR RATE BEATING

CHAPPELL, Neb., Nov. 13.—Attorney General Thompson today started suit against the Union Pacific railroad alleging discrimination against E. W. Jacobs, who was disciplined by the road for driving his cattle into Nebraska to take advantage of reduced rates. Jacobs ordered cars at Big Springs and after he reached that place with his cattle was compelled to pasture them about in the hills for twenty-five days before he could secure cars. In the meantime shippers on either side of Big Springs secured the cars. The penalty for violation of the discrimination clause of the commission law is not less than $100 nor more than $5,000.

DANGER IN DELAY.

Kidney Diseases Are Too Dangerous For Fresno People to Neglect

The great danger of kidney troubles is that they get a firm hold before the sufferer recognizes them. Health is gradually undermined. Backache, headache, nervousness, lameness, soreness, lumbago, urinary troubles, dropsy, diabetes and bright's disease follow in merciless succession. Don't neglect your kidneys. Cure the kidneys with the certain and safe remedy, Doan's Kidney Pills, which has cured people right here in Fresno.

Mrs. J. B. McGinnes, living on P St. Fresno, Calif., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills proved of great value to my husband. He had been suffering for some time from kidney disease and nothing seemed to help him. He complained of his back hurting him and accompanying this was an irregular action of the kidneys. After reading an account in the papers of Doan's Kidney Pills, and deciding to give them a trial, he procured a box at Huker and Colson's Drug Store. In less than a week he felt the beneficial effects and from that time on he improved steadily. He is now as well as ever and enjoying perfect health. I am glad to say for him that Doan's Kidney Pills do all that is claimed for them."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Attorney's Glasses

The attorney asks for glasses with which he can see to the far end of the court, address his learned brothers, and instruct juries. He asks that the same glasses with which he sees distant objects so distinctly shall also enable him to make notes rapidly, to read the smallest print easily, and to scrutinize distinctly written matter.

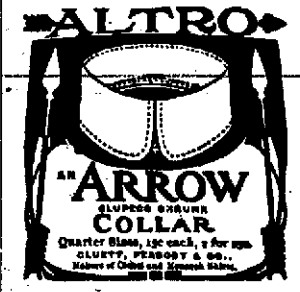

He asks that he be spared the annoyance of two pairs of glasses—that he be saved from the ugliness and irritation of those far-and-near lenses that have lines crossing them or pieces pasted upon them.

He asks for relief from eye-strain; he asks for easy, restful vision, whether far or near, in one pair of glasses.

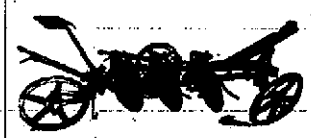

Let him wear RETFO-KRYPTOKS, and all these advantages are his.

WATTS WILL SIGNED SAYS ATTORNEY

Whole Estate Left to Relative In Texas.

Pioneer Died Before He Could Give Details of His Possessions.

A new turn was given to the Watts estate controversy yesterday by the announcement by Attorney N. C. Coldwell that the will was, as a matter of fact, signed by the testator, and that it leaves the whole estate to a relative in Texas. The will will be filed in due season, and of course will knock out the public administrator's petition, which is based on the belief that the will was not signed. Mr. Coldwell says he had arranged to visit Watts the day after the making of the will, not for the purpose of having it signed, but to learn about the details of the estate.

Mr. Coldwell sets forth his position in the following communication.

Editor Republican: There appears in your issue of this morning a publication concerning my connection, or supposed connection, with the estate of Charles B. Watts and Mrs. Herriott.

I am astonished to find that you thought there was anything in my repute as a citizen or as a lawyer which could justify that publication. That publication lays you open to the suspicion of exploiting one attorney at the expense of another, and of attempting to forestall criticism of the conduct of one attorney by causeless slurs upon another.

Why did you not make some inquiry of me? I am a resident of this city, with a home and office here, and could have been easily found.

The publication is unfriendly, unkind, unjust and untrue.

Mr. Watts did not leave an estate valued at from $40,000 to $50,000, and I would be surprised to know that his estate was of a value greater than $4000.

The public administrator was not able to learn from me the details of the Watts estate—not because I refused to communicate to him such details, but because no such details were within my knowledge! nor did the public administrator make any inquiry of me concerning that estate.

I was not the attorney for Charles B. Watts, and the only official service that I ever performed for him was the writing of his last will and testament.

The signing of the will was not postponed until the morning following its writing; but it was arranged that I should visit Mr. Watts on that morning for the purpose of being informed by him of the details of his estate.

That last will and testament was signed by Mr. Watts, duly published, acknowledged and declared, and the same is now in my possession.

I was not named as executor in that will; upon the contrary, notwithstanding the repeated request made upon me by Mr. Watts to act as such executor, I positively declined, and this declination was made in the presence of at least a dozen people.

The executor named in that will has not filed a "hurry up" petition for letters in the estate, for the reason that he is at this time engaged in performing the last offices for the dead, who was his life-long friend, and today the executor laid the old man to rest in the hills he loved so well, and among his old neighbors, who had loved him so long.

The paucity of details in the petition of the public administrator is not due to the reticence of the lawyer, nor to the lawyer's chagrin at having lost a nice plum in prospective fees. The lawyer has not lost any plum, "nice" or otherwise; and the lawyer did not exercise any reticence, because no inquiry was made of him; the paucity of details in the public administrator's petition should rather be attributed to the haste with which that petition was filed—a haste which you have very properly characterized as "hurry up."

There is a story in "legal circles," but that story is not concerned with how Mr. Coldwell lost an employment in a probate case, but, rather, is concerned with how the attorney for the public administrator gained one.

I was not the attorney of Mrs. Herriott in her lifetime; I had no acquaintance with that lady, and if I ever saw her I have no memory of the fact.

I did not expect, and had no grounds for expecting a retainer in the administration of that estate; and, in fact, I did not know that there was any estate to administer, or that Mrs. Herriott was dead until after the public administrator, as you say, had "waived" his rights in favor of Lane; and, as you say, had refused to make a "single waiver" for his attorney.

You have seen fit to say that the Watts case coming on top of the Herriott case has not left him (meaning Mr. Coldwell) in happy relations with Providence. Like all men of thoughtful and reverential natures—and I hope I am such—I am anxious at all times to be in happy relation with that great Providence, in Whose hands we rest and Whose creatures we are. If nothing other than those cases has disturbed those happy relations, which I so ardently desire, I am, indeed, a happy man.

My conduct in these matters has put me in happy relation with myself, and with my brother attorneys, and, I trust, with Providence.

If the public administrator and his attorney desire to invoke the judgment of those who are within "legal circles" or of the courts, or of the public, I stand ready to furnish the grounds of my own sentiments on the subject, which at this time are those of unmitigated contempt. Respectfully yours,

N. C. COLDWELL.

Fresno, Nov. 14, 1907.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE OF REPUBLICAN CLUB

The appointed executive committee of the Fresno Lincoln-Roosevelt Republican club is announced to be as follows: George W. Jones president; George Cosgrave, vice-president; Ernest Kleeto, secretary; Charles Erickson, W. A. Sutherland, A. M. Drew and Hayden W. Jones. The three first named are ex-officio of the committee.

FEDERAL SESSION DRAWING TO CLOSE

Today Will Be Given Over to Chaddock Case.

Next Sitting of the Court in May, 1908, Will Be Held In New Federal Building.

The case of the United States consolidated seeded raisin company against Chaddock & Co., for alleged infringement of the Pettit raisin seeder patent will be called this morning by Judge Wellborn. The agreement yesterday was that Attorneys Miller and Cory would each take up three hours in the presentation of their case on the depositions taken and the arguments of the law points involved. The judge has announced a willingness to hold a night session to dispose of the present calendar. The attorneys in the seeder case said they would close their case today. The only other matter pending thereafter is the M. U. Jones contempt citation in the ex-policeman's bankruptcy case. Judge Wellborn expects to return to Los Angeles on Saturday. The next term of the federal court here will be on the first Monday in May and it is confidently expected that the sitting will be in the post-office building.

Insanity Proof Lacking.

Judgment for the defendant was awarded by Judge Wellborn in the suit of the widow, Laura M. Ronne, and three children to recover $3000 on the insurance policy in the Woodmen of the World of John A. Watkins, who was a member of a camp at Bakersfield and committed suicide in Los Angeles in February 1902, two months and twenty days after he had joined the order. Judgment went for the defendant, because it was not proven according to the laws of the order that the insured was insane and unsound of mind for seven days before the act of suicide. Watkins asphyxiated himself while seated in a chair in the kitchen of his home, having as the proof showed made preparations for the deed and laboriously detached the gas tube from the stove.

From Pillar to Post.

Judge Wellborn has under advisement a motion to remand to the state court the suit of Miss Edith G. Ostrander, daughter of F. G. Ostrander, the attorney at law of Merced, against W. R. Hearst of the San Francisco Examiner for alleged libel growing out of a published report of a university caper in which it was incorrectly stated that Miss Ostrander was a party. The suit was originally in the Merced Superior court, then transferred to the federal court on motion of the defendant, and now to be remanded to the state tribunal at request of the plaintiff.

Up for Sixty Days.

William Kennedy, an Indian, who has been in jail 120 days for selling liquor to wards of Uncle Sam on the Tule river reservation, twenty miles from Porterville in Tulare county, pleaded guilty yesterday and was sentenced to sixty days imprisonment and a fine of $100. The fine he can never pay. After finishing the imprisonment sentence he will take the poor man's oath and be released. The Indian is a co-defendant of the Mrs. Appendauer, who was indicted for the same offense last Monday.

For Non-Delivery.

The trial yesterday afternoon was that of the case of the Western Grocer company of Missouri against the Fresno canning association to recover $2215 for non-delivery of goods, contracted to be furnished during the season of 1904 to two firms in Kansas City, who bought through the plaintiff as a commission broker. The case has no public interest and the point involved is whether A. L. McIlray, who made the arrangements with the broker, had authority so to do as the agent of the local company.

Used Cancelled Stamp.

Deputy Marshal Coyle arrested yesterday Lazaro Martinovich on the bench warrant issued on the indictment accusing him of using a cancelled postage stamp on a letter that he had mailed. Martinovich is a dishwasher in the Cosmopolitan restaurant on Mariposa street.

Upon the report filed yesterday of W. J. Tinnin, referee in bankruptcy, Judge Wellborn ordered the final discharge in bankruptcy of John Jonsen, Jr., now of Long Beach, and formerly of this city.

FRESNO HIGH WANTS DEBATE WITH MADERA

At a meeting of the high school student body yesterday, it was decided to challenge Madera high school for a joint debate, a committee of two from the assembly being appointed for the purpose of drawing up and submitting the challenge. It is probable that the debate will be gladly taken up by the Maderans, as they have worsted the local school in more than one such encounter in the past. Still, debating here is on a new footing this year, making the promoters of the idea very hopeful of success.

Editor Edwin Einstein, of the Owl, announced that the November issue of the paper will appear on next Tuesday. It is to be a special football edition. In his capacity as "yell leader," he also urged more enthusiasm over the football game with Tulare high school, scheduled for tomorrow.

President Collins appointed the following as committee for entertainment at the next regular meeting of the student body: Charles Porter, chairman; Miss Vogel and Miss Rowell.

The following program was rendered:

1. Selection by the high school orchestra.
2. Vocal solo by Miss Meade, accompanied by Miss Ena Deyo.
3. Piano solo by Claude Timmins.
4. Vocal solo by Rex Keefer, playing his own accompaniment.
5. Selection by the orchestra.

After the meeting, a short session for the rooters was held, to practice yells for Saturday's game. As usual, the meeting was poorly attended, breaking up for lack of body after about the first yell was run through.

TRIMMER BRIDGE BUILDING DELAYED

Kings River Power Co. Hindered By the Flurry.

Two Bids Received to Furnish Fuel Oil to the County Institutions.

A. L. Selig of Los Angeles, representing the Kings River Power company appeared before the supervisors yesterday and made a plea in view of the financial flurry for an extension of time until next July for the performance of its agreement of May, 1906, with the county to construct within twelve months thereafter a wagonroad bridge to cost not less than $15,000 across the Kings river at Trimmer Springs.

The company is erecting a large reservoir site in the mountains, and on the representation that its improvements would materially add to the taxable property of the county made an agreement with the supervisors that if they would construct into the canyon a road around Round and Trimmer hills it would in turn erect the bridge and when completed give it to the county as a public property. Mr. Selig stated that on account of the financial disturbance the company has been prevented for the time being from borrowing money or selling bonds.

For that reason it has had to suspend operations in part, alter its plans and reduce its expenditures to the minimum, and for that reason it wanted the extension and until the times are bettered and they can realize money to proceed with their work. Mr. Selig said that the company has no intention of abandoning the bridge project, which is absolutely necessary for its reservoir project but is anxious to complete its project and realize active returns on its invested capital.

Attention was called to the fact that the company is under no bond to the county to perform its contract, and as Supervisor Johnson pointed out, there is no guaranty that it will not come again next July and ask for another extension.

Mr. Selig admitted that this was so, but he hoped the condition of affairs would be improved by then and said the company could not afford and does not intend to abandon the work that it has so far undertaken and carried out at great expense.

Supervisors Beall and Mitchell both reported that the company has faithfully carried out the road work that it had undertaken and the extension of time was voted.

Bids For County Oil

Two bids were received and opened by the board for the delivery of fuel oil at the county courthouse and the hospital. The bid of the Associated Oil company, represented by Calvin S. Hill, was $1.10 per barrel delivered in tank wagons at the courthouse and $1.15 at the hospital. The offer of the Sunset Road Oil company by H. A. Blodgett of Bakersfield was $1.12 per barrel delivered at either place in quantities and at times as required. The tenders were taken under advisement until tomorrow morning. Mr. Hill urged that notwithstanding the difference in prices for deliveries from the storage tank on the southern Pacific reservation his offer should have the preference because of superior ability to make deliveries, the Associated having its own equipage of 600 oil cars, making it unlikely to suffer the inconveniences of non-delivery by reason of car shortage as experienced last winter.

EXTRA SESSION

Governor Gillett has decided to call an extra session of the legislature, to last four or five days, under limitations which will confine it strictly to the business in hand. It is a curious formality, in which the whole function of the legislature is to give legal sanction to the measures prepared for it in the governor's office. It makes the governor dictator, subject to the reserved veto power of the legislature. But it is one of the anomalies of our system that the people prefer this executive dictatorship to the free action of their own representatives. They are willing to trust the governor to do only the things that are necessary, under intelligent advice and with a large sense of responsibility. They are not willing to trust the legislature, at all. It is a reversal of the old notion that the people could best trust those most directly representing them. The restraining power, nowadays, is not so much direct accountability to the people as it is sense of responsibility. There are no officials whom the people trust so much as federal judges, appointed for life, and none whom they trust so little as legislators and aldermen, the immediate representatives of small districts or wards. So, in this case, the people will look with little apprehension on the meeting of the legislature, because its hands will be tied, and it will have nothing to do but obey the governor's orders.

We had hoped that an extra session could be avoided, but the pressure on the governor has been so great that he doubtless felt that the course was unavoidable. He is to be commended, however, for his determination to limit the session to the fewest possible subjects. It is to be hoped that such legislation as is passed will materially relieve the banking situation. As to the other things, they can wait.

And yet the very pressure of a multiplicity of subjects, whenever the legislature is called together, indicates that we need more legislative work done, if we could only be sure of it being the right sort. We get too much legislation now, in one short session every two years. Yet we get too little, also. If we could find some way of preventing the too much, it might be more practicable to relieve the too little.

THIRD DOUMA

The first and second Russian assemblies were dispersed because they represented the people. The third one which met yesterday, is liable to meet the same fate for the opposite reason. It does not represent the people. By the most extraordinary election devices, the will of the people was denied expression or the votes, even if cast, were falsely counted, with the result that a violent royalist body has assembled, ostensibly representing the people, but actually representing the police. It is expected to obey orders implicitly, and to pass measures even more repressive than the administrative bureaus of the autocracy would have ventured on their own account.

It will not work. The people might have submitted as they had for centuries, to despotism, but they will not submit to fraud. Autocratic measures, emanating from the autocracy, were at least consistent. But if an alleged popular assembly which the people know was elected by fraud issues measures which they know an honestly elected assembly would not sanction, then they will know that the source of such government is in election frauds and repression. This brings the issue very close home. When the source of the tyranny was afar off, the remedy was equally remote. But when the source is right at home in the local police and electoral administration, the people will know where to meet it. They will insist on voting and having their votes counted, and if they can not get ballots they will send bullets. An autocratic douma is a more direct provocative to revolution than an autocratic bureaucracy.

Russia has the lesson to learn, probably in blood, that there are only two ways to rule a people—with its consent or without it. The old Russian way worked—the way of blood and iron; the way of the knout and the prison, of poverty and ignorance. The new way will work—the way of free speech, free schools and the free ballot. But the old way will not work under the forms of the new.

We predict for the new Russian douma a shorter and more inglorious career than either of its predecessors.

The Pullman company is introducing a new self-recording device to compel the porter to stay awake and attend to his duties. The idea is good. But the best way for the Pullman company to compel the porter to do his work as his employers desire is for those employers to pay his wages. When the porter gets his pay from the Pullman company he will do the company's work, in looking after the cars and the general comfort of the passengers. But so long as he must get his pay from the individual passengers, so long he will devote himself to bustling flunkeyism to those passengers about tip time.

BRYAN'S PARADOX

William J. Bryan announces that he is willing to be beaten once more for the presidency, provided his party is willing to nominate him to be defeated. But if it is looking for somebody to get elected, he will have none of it. A party is nothing, if it chooses issues and nominates candidates because they are winners. It gains more strength by nominating losers.

And the strange thing about this paradox is, it is true. Bryan is right. The Democratic party is going to get beaten next time, anyway. That is not so important. Democrats are used to defeat, and when the Democratic party really stood for something, and knew what it stood for, defeat never hurt nor weakened it. In fact, the only weakness of the Republican party, just now, is the band-wagon contingent which much success has brought it. And if the Democratic party goes into the next campaign with the deliberate intention of getting beaten, it will gain more strength than it can get in any other way. If it goes in to win, it will thereby administer itself a dose of poison. And if, by some miracle, it should win, it would be a case of suicide.

The present weakness of the Democratic party dates from its only victory in nearly half a century. The absolute collapse of the past three years dates from its effort to win at the last election. And its only hope of the future is based on a deliberately invited defeat, next election.

Bryan is right. What little is left of the rank and file of his party knows he is right, and will hope to go with him, to defeat. But it is a hard doctrine to preach to the short-sighted politicians, who make up conventions, and they may refuse to accept it.

WELCOME THE VISITORS

The Fresno county promotion committee has arranged a special excursion and banquet tomorrow for visitors from Laton and the Laguna de Tache country generally. The purpose is to bring the visitors from the southern part into closer touch with the county seat, and to give them a more personal view of its advantages. Of course it is superfluous to say that the visitors are welcome. They would be welcome at any time, and now that they come in a bunch the opportunity of extending a cordial collective welcome is particularly available. It is not necessary to suggest to citizens of Fresno generally that the welcome be such as to express the general cordial feeling that has always existed. And it is probably superfluous to assure the prospective visitors of the genuine cordiality of that welcome. So it is simply a case of everybody welcome and be welcomed.

The newest witness in the Thaw case has just returned from the African jungles, where she has been sojourning ever since the high-tenderloin tragedy. Doubtless she has found, in those jungles, a higher standard of civilization and morality than the one she left, in the Thaw-White circle of New York.

The sunspot theory of panics is again justified. There is a big spot on the sun, and a big tie-up in finance. Fortunately, the sunspot period is soon over. The financial tie-up should be over as soon. And the sun-spot reason for the bankers' panic is no more foolish than most of the others that have been assigned for it.

OIL STEAMER BURNS BUT CREW IS SAFE

Cargo Exploded and Men Had Narrow Escape from an Awful Death.

GAVIOTA, Cal., Nov. 14. — The steam schooner Berkeley, in ballast from San Pedro for San Francisco, was destroyed by fire this morning about fifteen miles off this port. The vessel was an oil carrier, and the fire started from some unknown cause in the engine room. Within a few minutes the schooner was enveloped in flames and the officers and crew, nineteen in all, were forced to take to the boats. All were saved but the vessel will be a total loss. Her officers were Captain A. B. Higgins, First Mate L. Sorenson, Second Mate J. Anderson, Chief Engineer J. H. Johnson. The vessel is owned by Charles H. Higgins of San Francisco.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 14.—Captain Higgins and the crew escaped from the burning vessel by the narrowest margin and landed safely on the beach at Gaviota landing. The men had but five minutes in which to save their lives and succeeded in lowering but a single boat over the side. The crew piled in this one small craft, most of them half dressed and nearly all hatless and shoeless.

The fire was caused by the communication of the flames from the engine to the fuel tanks. An explosion followed and a great burst of flames almost immediately enveloped the ship. There was no hope of extinguishing the fire and the crew thought only of saving their lives. Many of them were asleep in their bunks when the fire broke out, which was shortly after 3 o'clock.

The burning vessel was sighted from the shore immediately after she took fire. For four hours the flames shot high in the sky, illuminating the whole horizon. The entire population of this small village was assembled watching the burning steamer.

At daybreak the vessel disappeared from view. A small speck on the water could be seen far out which later turned out to be the crew in their small craft making their way to the shore. Fortunately the weather was calm and no unusually high sea was running. The men landed at noon and went at once to the station, where they boarded the northbound coast train for San Francisco. The engineer was the only one injured. He was slightly burned.

At 1 o'clock the still burning hull was sighted about three miles off Point Conception drifting northward. The Berkeley was bound light from San Pedro to San Francisco.

MANY GRAFTS ON HIS BANKS

Attorney Declares Walsh Sucked Blood Out of Institution By Many Different Methods.

CHICAGO, Nov. 14.—The opening statements of the attorneys in the trial of John R. Walsh, former president of the Chicago National bank, indicted for alleged misuse of the funds of that institution, were concluded today, and the taking of testimony was commenced.

Assistant District Attorney Dobyns finished his opening statements by the time the court adjourned at noon. In the afternoon Attorney Edward T. Ritscher outlined the case which the defense will present. He asserted that it will be shown during the trial that the Chicago National bank never discounted an insecured note; that neither the bank nor Mr. Walsh ever bought a bond that was worthless and that the payments made by Mr. Walsh or by the bank were perfectly proper and in the due course of business.

Mr. Ritscher declared that the defense will show that Mr. Walsh made no unjustified loans and declared that the question to be decided by the jury will narrow down to one of good faith and honest intent, instead of a crime. It will be shown, he said, that instead of Mr. Walsh owing money to the bank, he was actually its creditor.

At the conclusion of Mr. Ritscher's statement, T. J. Jackson, formerly cashier of the Chicago National bank, was called to the witness stand.

The cashier of the Chicago National bank was identified by Mr. Jackson and was offered by the prosecution as evidence of the bank's authority to commence business. Through Mr. Jackson and L. A. Walton, vice president of the Equitable Trust company, who was the next witness called, the government began identification of books of the three banks which will be used in evidence. This process will occupy the opening hours of tomorrow's session.

CHICAGO, Nov. 14.—Assistant District Attorney Dobyns continued his arraignment of John R. Walsh when the latter's trial was resumed today. He criticised the actions of the former president of the Chicago National bank in unmeasured terms and was interrupted by the attorneys for the defense with objections to his statements.

Judge Anderson in the main sided his rulings with Mr. Dobyns, insisting that the defense reserve their objections until the assistant district attorneys should fine them and not interrupt him in the middle of a sentence.

"I don't see how I can object without interrupting," said Attorney Hynes who is acting for Mr. Walsh.

"Reserve your objections until Mr. Dobyns has finished his statements, said the court. "He is entitled to finish his sentence."

Dobyns declared that the financial operations of Mr. Walsh were kept a secret from the directors of the bank. He added that several of them will take the stand for the trial and testify to that effect.

The financial troubles of the Chicago Chronicle, a newspaper which was controlled by Mr. Walsh, were discussed by the speaker. He declared that the Chronicle during its existence ran behind $1,611,104. In one year he declared the receipts were $452,705 while the expenditures were $712,716. Large loans he said were made to the Chronicle by the bank and it had once withdrawn from the bank a sum in excess of the amount which could legally be loaned to any one. The bank examiner directed that Mr. Walsh decrease the amount of the loan. Mr. Walsh, he declared, promised to do this, but never did.

CARTWRIGHT WILL NOT ATTEND NEXT SESSION

Senator Cartwright announced last night that he would not attend the extra session of the legislature. He will go to Sacramento Tuesday and ask to be excused. Cartwright will remain in Fresno to conduct the county division fight.

Tombs Makes Statement.

S. B. Tombs, inspector of the court house park concrete work, states that he assisted the surveyor as a chairman for the purpose of familiarizing himself with the work and he gave direction as to details of the work to prevent defects later appearing. The work of laying concrete will begin today.

EXECUTIVE MANSION SOLD FOR TAXES

LINCOLN, Neb., Nov. 14. —Governor Sheldon was notified today that the executive mansion had been sold for affected by some portions of it. She less the taxes and costs were paid, a tax deed would be issued according to law. The taxes amounted to $332.64, and the interest and costs to $88.14. The mansion was purchased in June, 1899, by the state from D. E. Thompson, United States ambassador to Mexico for $20,000.

Remarkable Effect of an Explosion

Mrs. John Lis, living in Washington county, was badly burned in a peculiar manner yesterday afternoon.

In attempting to build a fire in a hurry she took up what she supposed was an oil can, but instead it contained powder. She threw on a liberal quantity, when it exploded. The flesh on the woman's left arm from her elbow down was peeled off better than it could have been done with a surgeon's knife.

On the floor after the explosion was found what looked like a glove. It was in reality the skin from the woman's arm and hand. All the fingers were perfect, the fingernails coming off with the skin. There was not a break in the cuticle. The woman's entire left side was treated in the same manner from her heel to her breast.

Singularly enough there was not an abrasion on arm or leg, and the nail cells were not injured. The woman will recover.—Exchange.

BEGIN EVIDENCE AGAINST WOMAN

Jury Is Completed In Trial of Mrs. Annie Bradley In Spite of Difficulty In Securing Men

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14. — In the trial of Mrs. Annie M. Bradley on the charge of murdering Former Senator Arthur Brown of Utah, substantial progress was made today. After completing the jury, the case was opened for the government by Assistant District Attorney Turner, and a number of witnesses were introduced by the prosecution. There was a dozen of these witnesses, including the manager and a number of employes of the hotel where the shooting occurred, and several members of the police court, who were concerned in Mrs. Bradley's arrest. Indeed, when court adjourned for the day the prosecution had almost completed the direct presentation of the case, making it evident that that portion of the proceedings would be completed early tomorrow.

Much difficulty was experienced in completing the jury and twenty-seven or twenty-eight men were examined before the necessary number could be secured. A large majority were excused on the plea that they were opposed to the death penalty for women.

The crowd in attendance on the trial was not so large as on yesterday nor was the interest as marked. The testimony covered the details of the shooting and Mrs. Bradley was visibly the delinquent taxes for 1899, and unshuddered at the sight of the pistol with which the shooting was done, and at one time was moved to tears.

NO BIG STICK OVER OFFICIALS

Is Position Demanded By Good Government League In Perpetuating Its Organization.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 14.—To perpetrate its organization and to prepare for the continuance of the spirit of its views, the Good Government league met yesterday afternoon. Permanent officers were elected and a memorial was passed recommending to the successful candidates that they follow the principles of the league, and particularly that they appoint subordinates in office with a view to their efficiency and not for political motives.

Upon the subject of patronage, the league issued a statement, with the unanimous approval of partisan control of patronage the Good Government league desires to remind the newly elected officers that it supports the principle of "citizenship above partisanship" at this time with as much sincerity and vigor as it sustained the same principle when the ticket was placed by petition before the voters of San Francisco.

The league did not assess its candidates; it received no contributions from public service corporations; it lodged no claim for the whole or any part of what is termed the "patronage of office," and it now contends that the successful nominees are under obligation to make their own appointments solely upon the basis of honesty and efficiency, being responsible only to the people and to no political organization or association for their appointments or the administration of the municipal service.

Further, we suggest that any other course by an officer-elect, carried into office solely on a platform of good government and non-partisanship, elected by members of all the various parties in the city, would be a betrayal of the confidence of these people of the city who believed in our pledges and those of the candidates.

In giving expression to this view, the league believes that it voices the sentiment of over 16,000 electors who expressed their choice in the recent election by voting for the nominees of the league in the column of independent nominations.

A constitution was presented to the meeting by Professor G. H. Boke and Rev. Charles Lathrop, a brief declaration of principles, setting forth that the organization is founded upon nonpartisan lines and takes part in municipal affairs only for the general welfare of the city, and that it will keep free from politics, except when in cases of emergency the executive committee decides it is necessary for the league to interfere for the good of San Francisco. The constitution was adopted by a unanimous vote.

In connection with the constitution, a resolution was passed which provides that the secretary shall communicate with the board of supervisors, requesting that some method be adopted whereby all municipal expenditures for the different departments shall be published monthly.

Permanent organization was effected by the approval of the full committee and the temporary headquarters on Fillmore street were leased for a year. Isidor Jacobs was elected president, and Hugh M. Burke, secretary. William Greer Harrison, who presided, will remain chairman of the executive committee.

Secretary Burke reported that the league had collected from 400 contributors $7750 during the campaign in sums ranging from $1 to $100, and there was a balance of $217 on hand.

SUFFRAGIST CONVENTION PROVES A FIZZLE

TOPEKA, Kan., Nov. 14.—Scarcely a half dozen women delegates are in Topeka today to attend a meeting of the Kansas Equal Suffragist Association scheduled for today and tomorrow. So discouragingly small is the attendance that it is said that the meeting will not last over today. The purpose of the gathering is to form an organization for the purpose of electing members of the legislature pledged to give women the unrestricted right of suffrage.

IN FLAT WARE—We offer not only a complete line of standard patterns in spoons and forks, but also a variety of those exclusive designs which in the setting of your table tend to give individuality and display good taste.
IN HOLLOW WARE—Our constantly increasing assortment is significant not only from its price attractiveness, but also from the beauty of its designs. It includes many pieces of a marked degree of merit.
IN CUT GLASS—We have but to mention that we are the exclusive agents for the Hawkes Co., whose trademark of two little hawkes on each and every piece is the same to the connoisseur as the word "sterling" is for silver. The range of price is such that we can show bowls, for example, of the less expensive cuttings at $3.00 and $4.00, and from that up to the more expensive intaglio and rock crystal designs of $20 to $40.
We solicit the mail orders of out-of-town customers and will give the promptness and best services that can be had.

THE WEATHER

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 14.—The pressure continues high over the Pacific slope and as a result the winds are from the north and the weather generally fair. It is slightly cooler in Nevada along the Sierra. It will probably be cooler in the foothills Friday morning with light to heavy frosts.

The following high winds are reported: Eureka, 26 miles an hour from the north; Farallones, 30 miles an hour, northwest.

San Francisco and vicinity: Fair Friday; light north winds changing to southwest.

San Joaquin valley: Fair Friday, light north wind; light frost in the morning.

Rainfall to date	1.05

Fair Friday.

General Conditions

The depression noted over the Great Lakes yesterday has moved eastward to New England, causing cloudy weather and light snow from Pennsylvania to Vermont. Light rain fell at Jacksonville. The cold wave accompanying the area of high pressure over the Mississippi valley is moderating with a decrease in pressure. The line of freezing pressure does not penetrate as far south as that of yesterday although its southern limit reaches Alabama. Clear, cool weather prevails in all sections except the maritime states and portions of the Plateau. Pressure distribution on the Pacific slope is somewhat irregular and shows a rapid increase over the northern portion. Light precipitation fell in Oregon and in northern California. Fair weather is indicated for Fresno and vicinity tonight and Friday.

ANSWER TO CHALLENGE PRINTED IN REPUBLICAN

Picked Team of Five Men Will Bowl Toggery Bunch—Oaklander Makes Two 230's.

In answer to the challenge printed in yesterday morning's Republican from the employees of the Toggery Shop, for a bowling match with any similar team, the following team has been formed, and will play the Toggery team at an early date: Hill, Cardenas, L. Nelson, Wildman and Booth.

The sensation at the bowling alley last night was R. J. Scribs of Oakland, who ran two 210 scores in his first time out. A wish is expressed to see him go out for the record of 245 held by L. L. Cory.

High scores last night were Hockett, 211-223; L. Nelson, 226-213-201; R. J. Scribs, 230-230; A. Nelson, 220.

A new score for "chocked hat" was posted last night. It is 37, held by O. Brooks.

INDOOR SPORTS AT THE Y. M. C. A. FEATURED

Four Teams Organized for Perpetual Tournament Through Season—Will Aid Attendance.

For the purpose both of keeping up interest in indoor sports and for improving the attendance at the young men's class at the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium, four teams have been organized to take part in a "group game tournament." These tournaments are peculiar to Y. M. C. A. gymnasiums, having proved great successes in many parts of the country. All the class is included in the teams. These will compete through the season for a few minutes each night at some branch of indoor sport, the total number of points won indicating the champion at the end of the season.

The sports will be running, jumping, and endurance tests, used in all gymnasiums. The idea is to pair off the teams, and have any given two compete one evening in some one given sport, at the same time that the other two are engaged in contests of a different nature.

The incentive here to keep up attendance is forwarded by the fact that each team is given as many extra points as it has men in attendance, and also by a system of choosing men to even off teams, which gives the advantage to the team with the most regular men in attendance.

Eleven men are in each team, as they are now organized. Taylor Briggs, Hayden Jones, Sigmund Levy and J. Phillips have been chosen to lead the various teams. They are to be distinguished by various colors. The members of the leaders' class are not entered in these teams for the reason that they are needed as judges and other officials.

I. O. O. F.

At a meeting of the Central California Lodge of Odd Fellows last evening three members were given the first degree. They were T. M. Robinson, F. G. Storey and John Beriacles. One candidate took the obligations, while one applicant was elected to membership.

A good number was in attendance last night and the meeting was a success in many ways.

The next regular meeting will be the time for the nomination of officers for the new term.

WISE TALKS BY THE OFFICE BOY

I see a bunch of the wise ones are talking a lot about the dangerous prosperity we are up against and the sweet taste that a little adversity would bring to the people, but for my part I have steeled myself to stand prosperity if it will hang on a little longer. I guess these chronic spielers don't know everything. I heard a man say that Lincoln might have had an automobile if he had been born a few days later. And he said Adam might have had a sewing machine and got his wife to sew his clothes on if she'd known enough, that hot water always made steam and that every improvement we have is merely the result of learning how to use what is already here. So the older we grow the more progressive we become.

Our Fall suits are neater, the shirts are handsomer, hats are finer, more becoming and more comfortable to wear, so when you think things have reached the limit, I guess it's a sign they have just begun. Come in and see us.

FRESNO PEOPLE WITH WEAK LUNGS NEED VINOL

Many people inherit weak lungs which are likely to be attacked by consumption. So also are lungs weakened by disease or by a stubborn hacking cough.

No matter what the cause, Vinol strengthens weak lungs and gives one the power to throw off wasting diseases.

The reason that Vinol has such power to heal and strengthen is because it contains in a highly concentrated form all of the curative, medicinal and strength-creating elements of cod liver oil, actually taken from fresh cods' livers, with the useless, nauseating oil eliminated and tonic iron added.

So sure are we of what Vinol will do that we ask every person in Fresno suffering from weak lungs, stubborn hacking coughs or any wasting disease to try Vinol on our offer to return money if it fails. George H. Monroe Co., Fresno, Cal.

BETTER DEMAND FOR SPOT SEEDED RAISINS

Jobbers Forced to Cover Their Immediate Requirements—Prices Hold Stationary.

Mail advices from New York say, in regard to dried fruits: A better demand for spot goods was noted yesterday, but it was still of a conservative character, buyers showing no disposition to take in anything more than the immediate requirements of their trade necessitated. In imported goods some buying of Valencia layer raisins for the interior was reported at 7@7½c, as to brand, but it is intimated that on a large order the inside price might be shaded a quarter of a cent in one quarter. Prices on spot California seeded raisins of either coast or city packing appear to be stationary. There is a fair demand for small lots of the former to piece out jobbers' stocks pending the arrival of goods bought by them for early shipment from the coast.

8 HOUR CONTRACT CLAUSE INEFFECTIVE

Because Not Conforming to Essentials of the Law.

It Provides for No Penalty for the Violation of Working Limit.

Secretary Seaward will make to the Federated Trades council tonight his report on the alleged eight hour a day labor violation in connection with the public work contract for the paving of the southern 30-foot strip of the courthouse grounds on Tulare street. The contract in question is held by the Wornwick Street Paving company and was entered into by the supervisors after approval of the draft by the district attorney's office. The draft of the contract was submitted by the contracting company and contains this clause:

"It is expressly understood and agreed between the parties in this agreement that under it eight hours of labor shall constitute a day's work and that the said party of the second part shall not require more than eight hours' labor a day from any person employed by it hereinunder."

For the company it has been stated that it employs all its labor by the hour, that it is left to the laborer himself how many hours he shall work and that he is not dictated to in this respect. Secretary Seaward has had the advice of the labor commissioner and has looked up the law (Section 653e of the Penal Code) to find, as he believed, that the clause in the contract is of no effect because it does not conform with essential language of the law.

He points out that while under the law the time of service upon any public work is "limited and restricted to eight hours during any one calendar day," it also makes it unlawful "for any officer or agent of said state, or of any political subdivision thereof, or for any contractor, or sub-contractor, doing work under contract upon any public works aforesaid, who employs, or who directs or controls, the work of any laborer, workman or mechanic, employed as here in aforesaid to require or permit such laborer, workman or mechanic to labor more than eight hours."—Seaward calls attention that while the contract clause says it will "not require more than eight hours' labor" it is silent as to "permitting" such labor for more than eight hours.

The law also provides that in such a contract there shall be a stipulation that the contractor shall forfeit as a penalty $10 for every laborer, etc., who is required or permitted to labor more than eight hours in violation of the act. No such forfeit is provided for in the contract in question. The insertion of this forfeit penalty is made the duty of any public officer or agent making or awarding a contract, and it is made his duty to take cognizance of violations of the eight hour labor law and to retain from the contract price payments all sums due as forfeits.

It is also made a misdemeanor punishable as such for any officer, agent or representative of the state of California or of any political subdivision thereof" to violate any of the provisions of the act in question, approved March 21, 1905, and popularly known as the eight hour law.

ROBBED INVALID WHO FED HIM FOR A WEEK

Ungrateful Tramp Captured Who Decamped With Property of Picture Man at Fowler.

Wayne Carr, arrested yesterday afternoon by Constable Mason of Fowler on a warrant sworn to by W. Perry Mack, a traveling photographer, was booked at the county jail last night on a charge of grand larceny, Judge Shannon fixing his bail at $1000.

Carr is twenty-one years old and claims to be the son of an Iowa farmer. He was a vagrant when Mack befriended him and took him in his wagon last week near Fresno. Mack has been traveling for eight years, living in the open air for consumption, having been over the entire west since leaving his home in San Jose.

Friday night, while Mack was attending a meeting of the Odd Fellows' lodge in Fowler, Carr took a $40 opera glass, a rifle, pistol and considerable clothing belonging to the man who had fed him for a week and left town.

Constable Mason received word yesterday that he was working in the Chicago colony near Fowler and arrested him. The property was recovered.

Junior U. O. A. M.

A good number of members turned out last evening at the regular weekly session of General George Washington Council, No. 49, Junior Order United American Mechanics and a very interesting meeting was held. After the regular routine of business, a general discussion was indulged in by the members. It was decided to hold initiations at the second and fourth meetings of each month. Every month in which five meetings occur, the fifth meeting will be set aside as a "social night."

Brothers Paul A. Walker and Joseph W. Walker of Mt. Pleasant Council, No. 22, Mount Pleasant, North Carolina, and W. M. Efird of East Salisbury council, No. 38, Salisbury, N. C., were present and made remarks on matters pertaining to the good of the order. Brother C. L. Connacher of the local council was also present to meet the brothers. He has been away for several months and left again last night for San Francisco.

Elaborate preparations are being made for the public installation next January. Under the captainsy of R. M. Carlisle, the drill team spent a short time in drill last evening.

SHIPPING GRAPE MARKET DEPRESSED

Emperors Bring Below $1000 Per Car.

Low Priced Almerias Glut Markets—Emperors Arrive In Poor Condition.

Manager Lines, of the Earl Fruit company's local house, said yesterday that the market on shipping grapes is now rather low. Prices on cars range from $1000 or a little less to $1200 or $1300. Some of the better cars are above this latter figure, and the first car to arrive even brought over $1500. This is the very great exception, however. The low prices are not expected to last as they are due largely to conditions peculiar to this especial time.

One of the reasons for the low prices is the poor condition of the local fruit when it arrives in the east. This is said to be more largely due to poor carrying qualities than to any fault in the handling. It is due in part, too, to slow time made by the railroads. It requires from fourteen to eighteen days to get cars east, usually. This is too slow to get goods into the market in fresh and sound condition.

Another cause of the fall in prices on grapes at the eastern auctions is the fact that deliveries of tokays of inferior carrying qualities have been rather heavy in the last few days. These grapes come to purchasers at low prices, and so are a factor in depressing prices on coast products in this especial line.

Another cause is the fact that the eastern market is glutted with Almeria grapes, which are many of them arriving in exceedingly poor condition, causing much protest from importers, and are selling at very low prices. The shippers from the Spanish side have been operating at a loss, for which reason, shipments of Almerias have been entirely called off, according to recent advices. The market is just now glutted with this low priced fruit, however, making conditions exceedingly bad for the local product.

Manager Lines said yesterday that he expects to see the prices on emperors advance before long. They have a rather good time in which to arrive as yet, and it is possible for many changes in the market in that time.

The greater part of the emperor crop is now rolling. The effect of the low prices will not therefore be to curtail shipments much, as it might in the case of fruit with a longer shipping season. The goods are now sent. The best that can be done is to await the results at the eastern auctions, particularly those in the New York market where the most of the grapes are sold.

THE LATEST MICROBE MENACE.

Playing cards that have been used again and again would doubtless show on bacteriological examination an appalling selection of micro-organisms, and on enumerating them there surely would be found the organism which works for evil side by side with that which works no mischief.—From the Lancet.

OLIVES RIPENING IN GOOD QUANTITY NOW

Extensive Handling of the New Roeding Ripe Olive In Tins Soon to Begin.

Olives are now beginning to ripen in quantities, the deliveries to the packer now being composed rather largely of these. Heretofore, the pickling has been on green fruit, the small quantity of ripe fruit coming in with the deliveries of stuff to be used for the green trade being too small to make much difference. The pickling of California ripe olives will be in full blast in a short time now, however. The Roeding ripe olives in cans, which are just being introduced east are to be worked on in the very near future. It is proposed to feature this product this season, as it is practically an unknown quantity in the East, though generally considered superior, where it is known, by a great many persons to the old style green pickled olive. Mr. Roeding has succeeded in introducing this brand in the East, by the use of cans, while the pickles were formerly put into casks. It is found that by the use of tins the fruit arrives in perfect condition. The demand East is said to be awakening at once, and it is proposed to take extensive advantage of it this year.

REV. WEBB PREACHES ON TEST OF SALVATION

Large Crowd Listens to Evangelist's Sermon—Talk for Women This Afternoon.

Rev. J. M. Webb preached to a large and attentive audience last evening at the Cumberland Presbyterian church on the subject of "The Insufficiency of Our Own Righteousness." Mark 10:21. The sermon dealt with the rich young man who came to Christ asking what he should do to be saved. The sermon was outlined from lessons of this talk with the Savior. In the first place, Mr. Webb commended the young man for several reasons. He had come when young; that is God's plan. Passages of Scripture were quoted in this connection, such as: "Remember thy Creator in the days of thy youth;" "They that seek me early shal find me;" "Seek ye first the kingdom of God."

Next, the young man was commended by Mr. Webb because he was in earnest; he came running to the Master. The great importance of the issue merited consideration and instant action. Then, he had come to the right teacher. He had come in a teachable spirit. And he had lived a past moral life. The Rev. Webb showed how he was commendable for all these things. Then he went on to say that it would appear that this man was all right. But Jesus said that he lacked one thing necessary that he have eternal life.

The preacher went on to outline the test of salvation. When the Master told this man to sell all he had and become his disciple, he was laying down a universal condition of salvation only by implication. The universal condition is just this—any person to be saved must be willing to make God supreme. If our possessions come before our desire for God, says Mr. Webb, they must be made subordinate before we can be truly saved. Mr. Webb then gave several verses proving that the final test of salvation is that the chief love of the individual must be fore Christ and his kingdom.

In concluding, the evangelist brought home the sadness of being nearly saved, but falling in the last moment.

Several persons came forward confessing Christ and others asking for prayers. An after service was conducted, when instructions were given to those not Christians and prayers offered for the unsaved.

Rev. Webb will speak this afternoon on "The Gospel's Special Claims on Women." All women are urged to attend. At 7:30 o'clock this evening, he will preach on "What Is It to Be a Christian?"

IN THE BIG SACRIFICE CLOSING OUT SALE OF PIANOS AND PLAYER PIANOS—THERE IS SOME SATISFACTION IN BUYING AT A STORE THAT ADVERTISE WHAT THEY HAVE AND HAVE WHAT THEY ADVERTISE—$425 PIANOS GOING AT $197—YOU KEEP THE DIFFERENCE OF $228—AND 25 OTHER BIG SAVINGS FOR TODAY AND TOMORROW.

Remember the Place, 1027-1029 I Street—John A. Neu's Closing Out Sale on Account of Retiring from Business.

If you haven't music in your home you are not getting out of life all there is in it. Music gives more real enjoyment to the world than any one thing.

No one's education is now considered complete without music, and the piano is the home musical instrument.

In buying a piano, don't guess. The piano is to last for years—should at least. Perhaps you have about settled the matter about possessing a new piano and are thinking over the important part—selecting. If so, it is to your interest to have a good piano—one that has been time-tried in this very trying climate on pianos—one that has been found reliable. Such pianos have been sold at my store, and only such, for the past fifteen years that I have been in business here in Fresno. They are the pianos I am now closing out at prices never before heard of, taking quality of the instruments into consideration. I have mentioned the prices they have been sold at in this territory for many years and by a comparison of the closing out sale prices it is easily determined that here is the place to buy your piano or player piano, and the time now before all are gone, because the prices will never be duplicated. You save a year and in some cases two years' payments; in other words you stop paying about a year or two before the fellow who bought elsewhere, unless he buys a cheaper made piano. You need not stay away on account of ready money, as you can pay a little now and a little monthly unless it is more convenient to make yearly payments.

Come here today and make your selection. The following will give you an idea of what your hard-earned dollars will do at this sacrifice closing out sale. Back of every piano sold is a guarantee that is the strongest ever given. Any banker or business man will tell you it is absolutely gilt edge:

$350 brand new piano at $217
$475 brand new piano at $343
$275 brand new piano at $115

Many other bargains in proportion. Store open evenings.

Events In Society

One more girl engaged. Really, this state of affairs is getting alarming, particularly when each marriage announcement means a transferring of Fresno's fair daughters to adorn society in other cities. Yesterday Miss Louise Roberts made known to her friends the news of her engagement to Bruno Heineman of San Francisco. The news was told at a charming afternoon affair at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Johnson Guy Rhodes, on Blackstone avenue and came as very much of a surprise to most of her friends who have seen very little of her of late since she has been pursuing her musical studies in San Francisco. It was through her teacher that she met her fiance. She has been a pupil of Dr. Hugo Mansfeldt and the lucky man is the doctor's nephew, himself a musician of attainment. Beginning mutual tastes and inclinations the friendship first formed deepened into something more romantic. Mr. Heineman has visited his fiancee on several occasions and is said to be an extremely clever, interesting man, quite deserving the good fortune of winning so fair a girl, for Miss Roberts is a girl of more than usual charm. Fresno claims her as one of her own daughters for she was born and reared here and received her early education in the schools of this city. She is the only daughter of Mrs. Susan Roberts and inherits much of her mother's graciousness and charm. She is both pretty and clever and has a decided musical gift which has been treasured and developed under one of the best teachers of the coast, Dr. Mansfeldt.

The guests had been invited to play "500", but the contest was almost forgotten in the excitement over the happy news. Over a score of Miss Robert's girl friends were present to shower her with good wishes. Mrs. Edwin Rowe and Mrs. W. W. Craycroft won the trophies in the "500" games.

Mr. and Mrs. William Walker Phillips entertained with a very charming little dinner last night covers being laid for twelve. The Phillips' dinners are noted for their jollity and pleasant informality which seems characteristic of the Southern hostess of which Mrs. Phillips is a delightful type. The table was a picturesque vision in delicate pink chrysanthemums and autumn leaves. Those seated at the table with Mr. and Mrs. Phillips were: Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Shaver, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Swift, Miss Nellie Borden, Miss Maud Muller, Miss Julia Dixon of Merced; Messrs. Fulton G. Berry, Collie H. Emmons, George Mordecai of Madera.

Mrs. Ernest Walrond was hostess yesterday at a very delightful buffet luncheon. The rooms were very beautifully decked with large fluffy chrysanthemums in exquisite coloring and all the product of the Walrond garden which contains some very rare specimens.

The hall and living room showed a decorative scheme of red with contrasting greenery giving a very pretty effect.

The table in the dining room was in yellow, a great cluster of yellow chrysanthemums occupying the center of the pretty table bright with crystal and shining silver.

Enjoying Mrs. Walrond's hospitality were: Mrs. J. D. Davidson, Mrs. C. B. Shaver, Mrs. H. W. Swift, Mrs. W. B. Holland, Mrs. T. W. Patterson, Mrs. D. H. Trowbridge, Mrs. G. H. Monroe, Mrs. Lee Gray, Mrs. Frank Gray, Mrs. Dewitt Gray, Mrs. A. O. Warner, Mrs. Frank Romain, Mrs. E. E. Manheim, Mrs. Julius Steinmyer, Mrs. Sig Wormser, Mrs. A. B. Long, Mrs. W. A. Bean, Mrs. H. On Tuesday afternoon the ladies' missionary society of the First Christian church met at the home of Mrs. L. O. Stephens. Mrs. Ralph Campbell was in charge of the afternoon, which was enjoyed by about fifty ladies. After a short business session the topic for the day "Porto Rican and Jamaican missions" was taken up. One of the church's missionaries at Porto Rico had written a very interesting letter of a day's experience at the mission which was read and Miss Marguerite Prior sang very sweetly a song written by a Porto Rican missionary. Greetings were given from the Nebraskan branch of the church's mission work. One happy feature of the day was the presence of Mrs. J. R. Perkins, wife of the new pastor, who is going to be such a valuable addition and inspiration to work among the ladies' societies. Mrs. Perkins is a musician of note and will doubtless be heard on more than one occasion as she is an accomplished organist and pianist as well as a singer.

The ladies of the Y. M. C. A. auxiliary are very busy today getting ready for the annual reception this afternoon to the association members and friends interested in the work. Mrs. W. R. McIntosh as the president is having general supervision over the affair and with Mrs. Thomas Boyd and Mrs. McElwee will be on the reception committee. Quantities of beautiful flowers, potted plants and ferns will enter into the decorations which are in charge of Miss Kate Parsons assisted by Misses Edith Pierson, Myrtle Harrell and Mrs. G. M. Boles.

The committee on general entertainment has Mrs. O. M. Thompson for its chairman, assisted by Mrs. A. V. Lisenby, Mrs. S. H. Redden, Mrs. E. E. Sims, Mrs. I. A. Melvin, Mrs. J. R. Hickman, Mrs Cutten, Mrs. McCourt and Mrs. William Glass.

The refreshment committee includes Mrs. Clark, Mrs. Blaynoy, Mrs. A. C. Mudge, Mrs. H. V. Armitage, Mrs. G. M. Boles is in charge of the serving and the dining room and will be aided by Misses Ruby Olney, Anne Meux, Mrs. Gus Anderson, Mrs. Crawford, Mrs. ohn Fechter, Jr.

A paper of much interest to the members and all interested in what the ladies have accomplished will be read by Mrs. S. H. Redden. It will be a review of the work for the past six years and what the ladies are planning to do for the future.

A program of more than unusual interest is in the capable hands of Mrs. A. G. Wahlberg who has the following numbers to offer:

Piano solo—Mazurka .....
..... "Silver Star" (Brahms)
Mrs. Lacaff.

Duet—"Parting" ..... (Neidlinger)
Mrs. A. G. Wahlberg, Mrs. Frank Connelly.

Mandolin selection .....
.....Y. M. C. A. Mandolin club
Vocal duet ..... "Daisy"
Yvonne and Dwight Young.

The bridge club, of which Miss Aimee Newman has been a member since its organization, complimented her last night with a charming little theater party in her honor at the performance of "The Rollicking Girl." Following the theater a dainty little supper was served at the home of Miss Shaver. The party last night included Misses Aimee Newman, Elizabeth Kennedy, Grace Shaver and Eugenia Miller; Messrs Ward Minturn, Fred McKenzie, Elmo Gundelfinger and P. B. Smith.

The Parlor Lecture club did not listen to Herbert Bashford, the young magazine writer yesterday as was expected, but instead had a most worthy substitute in a lecture on the "Nibelungenlied" by Chester H. Rowell. Mr. Rowell's thorough mastery of German literature gives him a power of dealing with this difficult subject far beyond that of the usual speaker and his lecture proved a most satisfying substitute for the one anticipated. In substance he spoke as follows:

* * * *

At the First Christian church last evening Reverend and Mrs. J. R. Perkins were delightfully honored by a reception planned for their introduction to the church and pastors of other churches in the city by the ladies aid society. The occasion was indeed a sincere welcome in every sense characteristic of the manner in which Fresno welcomes all new comers and likewise of the large heartedness of the people of this particular church. Sharing honors with the pastor and his wife were Mr. Perkins sister and niece, Mrs. Perrin and Miss Perrin also of Paris, Missouri.

Under the capable supervision of Mrs. G. L. Warlow, the reception room assumed a most artistic appearance. Masses of brilliant chrysanthemums in riotous colorings, stately palms, bright autumn leaves and poinsetta blossoms all had a part in this lovely color arrangement which had been employed with such charming effect. Assisting Mrs. Warlow in her work were Mrs. A. C. Swartz, Mrs. Fredericks, Mrs. Walker, Mrs. Halbert, Mrs. Dumas, Miss Alice Nudd.

Mrs. G. M. Boles, Mrs. Redden and Mrs. Loper transformed the dining room into an attractive bower canopied with smilax garlands, and brilliant poinsettas giving the dominating color note.

—Some refreshments of delectable quality were provided by an able committee consisting of Mrs. G. R. Taylor, Mrs. Patterson, Mrs. L. O. Stephens.

A very cordial welcome was extended by the reception committee to each guest. Serving in this hospitable capacity were chiefly the deacons and deaconesses of the church, among the number being Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Stephens, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Eden, Mr. and Mrs. George L. Warlow, Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Wakefield, Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Boles, Mr. and Mrs. Wolfe, Mr. and Mrs. Ewing, Mr. and Mrs. York, Mr. and Mrs. M. K. Harris, and several others.

After an hour or so of sociability during which the pastor was occupied in "getting acquainted," a short program proved delightfully entertaining. Walter H. Olney was in charge of it and he himself contributed one or two beautiful numbers. He gave for one number "Loves Coronation" by Awlward with a violin obligato by J. D. Stephens. It was a delightful number, the violin adding greatly to the harmony. Miss Winnie Valer was the accompanist of the evening. Mrs. Ralph Powell was another accomplished soloist of the evening who received the applause which always greets her appearance before an audience. Mrs. Thomas, a violinist who has recently come here from the east charmed her hearers with a beautiful solo and Miss Zoe Elliot contributed a reading or two given in her inimitable style. The program was exceedingly well selected and afforded much pleasure. The pastors of the various churches gave greetings to their fellow pastor and the evening concluded most sociably about the refreshment table.

Mrs. Victor Lindberg entertained a party of young people yesterday afternoon at her home 342 West avenue in honor of the eleventh birthday of her son, Adolph Lindberg. Beautiful decorations of flowers and greenery graced the rooms and a dozen or two little folks enjoyed a happy afternoon playing games and partaking of the birthday good things. Those present were Norman Smith, Alice Peterson, Helen Anton, Minnie and Ethel McNair, Lila and Alice Greenup, Robert Smith, Alice, Harold, Dorothy and Oscar Monson, Harry Peterson, Charles Anton, Ray Holthes, Lester Case, Edna Lindberg and Mrs. Monson.

LEE WILLARD COMPANY IN WESTERN DRAMA

Two Performances Tomorrow and "Texas Ranger" Sunday Night—Seats for Fritzi Scheff.

Tomorrow matinee Lee Willard and his company return to the Barton for three performances, opening in "Little Lord Fauntleroy," and presenting tomorrow night "His Worst Enemy" and Sunday night "A Texas Ranger," which will be given by special request. It is a story of Southwestern life which has proved of interest to all who have seen it. The usual drama of Western mountain life consists of a roughness and wildness that is scarcely consistent with the reality of things. Understanding this as Western people do, it will be a pleasure to witness the production of "A Texas Ranger," when it is given here. The company is a strong one and the stage settings are elaborately arranged with a careful attention to detail and naturalness. Matinee prices are 10, 20 and 30 cents, evening prices, 10, 20, 30 and 50 cents.

Seats for Fritzi Scheff.

The most important comic opera offering of the season will be seen at the Barton next Monday night when Charles Billingham will present Fritzi Scheff in "M'lle Modiste." Henry Blossom is responsible for the words and lyrics, while Victor Herbert wrote the music. These collaborators have demonstrated in "M'lle Modiste" that they are far and away the most accomplished men in the country writing light opera. Henry Blossom takes rank as the foremost librettist in America. Herbert's music is delightful, there being a swing and a haunting quality to it that make it unique. Of Fritzi Scheff herself little need be said. A grand opera singer with an exquisite voice, she has taken place as a comedienne of wonderful ability through her work in "M'lle Modiste." She is full of vivacity and has the personal magnetism, that is so necessary for success on the stage. Precisely the same big cast that has been seen in the opera for its three engagements in New York will appear here. There will be a largely augmented orchestra. The sale of seats for this important event is now open.

Primrose's Minstrels

The great Primrose and his mammoth minstrels will be the attraction at the Barton next Thursday night, November 21st. The singing this year has been made a special feature of and a magnificent new first part, done in green and gold, is said to be the most beautiful picture of its kind ever seen on the minstrel stage. Eight big acts of genuine merit complete an excellent olio and incidentally form the best show Mr. Primrose has ever produced.

TULARE'S LINE-UP SHOWS FAST TEAM

Game Tomorrow May See Rapid Style of Play.

One Change In Fresno Line—Dance After the Game for Players.

The official line-up of the Tulare football eleven which will play the local team on the Recreation park grounds tomorrow was received here yesterday, by Manager Warner. It seems that the visitors will average about as much as the Fresno men, though if there is any difference it will be in favor of the latter. Only one man on the Tulare team has it very much over the local huskies in weight, it being claimed that the Southern League cracks sport a 200 pounder.

The line-up as received yesterday is as follows:

C. Hutchison	L.	E.
Burke	L.	T.
Haydock	L.	G.
McKaney		C.
Luck	R.	G.
Gluyes	R.	T.
H. Talmage	R.	E.
Rush		Q.
Weaver	R.	H.
Yanac	L.	H.
W. Talmage (Captain)		F.

The only change in the Fresno line is that Summers has been substituted as guard for Wheaton, and the latter made first sub.

It is said that the visiting team is very fast for which reason it will depend largely perhaps on the rapid style of play, the long forward pass and the wide end run, with the fast plays usually the forte of the fast light team. The Fresno men have demonstrated their ability to handle the forward pass as well as to buck hard. The play may be somewhat of the erratic nature found in the game last Saturday with Madera, in which at no stage did the teams indulge for any length of time in the old style butting and bucking contest in the center of the field, in which there is no factor but brute force and grit.

After the game, the visitors are to be well entertained, the day closing with a dance at Einstein hall, given in their honor.

FALKENSTEIN MUSIC CO.

DRAWN UP OVER THE CARPET ONCE MORE.

Many piano buyers who have waited patiently for pianos cannot understand why they are refused when calling at the company store; the truth is on account of a few bonds which were issued to be used at their face value and on account of delayed shipments of pianos, the people of Fresno, appreciating the low price, have made a great stampede for the well known makes of pianos they handle. It has been almost an impossibility to even keep samples in stock and the majority of pianos received by the company each day have been delivered direct to the homes of the purchasers. The fact that the Falkenstein Music Co. have only one price insures anyone owning a bond or being fortunate enough to purchase one whatever the amount may read on the face, is good for that many dollars on any new piano in their house. For $350, $300 or $350 you buy an old make and a reliable piano, one that is sold by other dealers from $100 to $200 more than the above prices. These prices represent the prices the smaller dealer usually pays for his pianos at wholesale when buying of San Francisco wholesalers. This company buys direct from the factory, and their representatives have been here for a few days to honor any demand for credit on account of bonds which is deducted from the wholesale price by the manufacturers. This enables the Falkenstein Music Co. to get a discount from the wholesale bill and means an honest saving to the customer of $75 to $100.

Falkenstein Music Co. are open tonight and tomorrow night until 9 o'clock and all bonds will be honored at its face value if presented before 9 o'clock tomorrow night. They have a complete stock of all makes and prices at the time this paper went to press, but they do not guarantee to furnish any certain piano unless you come at once.

Card of Thanks.

I extend my thanks to all who so kindly assisted in the illness and death of my husband; also for the many floral offerings.

Something New for the Modern Housewife

"Y and E"

Card Index Cooking Recipes

The innumerable advantages of the "Y and E" card index systems have long been recognized in business circles, and at the present time there is scarcely a business that does not make use of them in some form or other.

The Housewife is now invited to participate in Card Index advantages in the form of a choice collection of Mrs. Alice Gitchell Kirk's Cooking Recipes arranged on the Card Index plan. The outfit consists of a handsome cloth-covered box with hinged cover and drop front; 13 index guides with printed titles for classifying the various kinds of recipes, and 125 cards, each containing a neatly printed recipe.

The modern housewife can now dispense with the oil cloth covered book and the flat iron to keep it open with. The danger of soiling the entire lot of recipes while using one is also a thing of the past. One card is now selected from the box and hung upon a nail or hook (there is a hole in each card for that purpose), leaving the remainder intact. This card tells you just what utensils are needed and these can always be procured before beginning to handle the ingredients. There is no danger of forgetting, because the list is complete. The card tells in another column what ingredients to provide and these can all be brought to the mixing table without danger of omitting anything. The work of preparing and cooking can be done without removing the card from the wall. There is no danger of soiling a card.

You can copy favorite recipes upon blank cards and file them in the box under their proper heads. You can loan your friend one recipe without parting with any other. Additional sets of recipes are in course of preparation and can be added to the box from time to time as desired.

The complete outfit as described above is for sale at the

HANFORD LADIES AID GIVES UNIQUE SOCIAL

Quaint German Viands Sold at "Deutsch Market."

Japanese Suspected of Stealing Watches Admits Pawning One In Fresno.

HANFORD, Nov. 14.—The Deutsch market, given last evening in Dewey hall, by the young ladies' aid of the Presbyterian church, proved both very entertaining and profitable. The funds derived from the sale of the quaint but delicious viands, will be used by the young ladies in church work.

I. Nakandite, the Jap who is being detained in the Kings county jail suspected of stealing a number of watches, was sweated today by Sheriff Buckner, and his disconnected stories strengthen the suspicion of his guilt. Nakandie admits having pawned a watch in Fresno and gave the address of the pawnbroker who will be communicated with by the officers.

The Hanford woman's club has arranged an excellent program to be given at their meeting in Odd Fellow's hall Saturday, November 16th at 2:30 p. m.

J. O. Turner of Fresno, spent today in Hanford, in consultation with F. S. Granger, relative to the construction of the Kings county interurban road. Mr. Turner who is well known in Hanford may be employed as construction superintendent of the road, and if so, the community may be assured that the work will be rightly done.

The Hanford S. A. D. church school, is now in excellent running condition in their new location at the extreme southeast corner of the city. Five acres of ground have been purchased and in the near future a new school building will be erected thereon. At present the attendance is about thirty pupils, who are in charge of Miss Brown.

A local fruit packer today stated that there was no more than enough raisins this year to supply the demand and he thinks there will be an advance in price.

C. E. Pearson of Lebanon, Ohio, who has been visiting his brother-in-law, H. M. and W. F. Bernstein of this city today left for his eastern home.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Trewhitt returned home today from their wedding trip and will reside near this city.

Daniel Flinn is expected home tomorrow from a month's visit in Old Mexico where he has extensive mining interests.

INDIAN'S BACKBONE SAVED HIS LIFE

George Rivercomb Held for Slashing Another Redman In the Course of a Drunken Quarrel.

George Rivercomb, an Indian, who in September last, inflicted a nearly fatal wound upon another Indian, Willie Wilcox, was before City Justice Graham yesterday on the charge of assault with a deadly weapon and was held to the Superior court. He intimates that he will plead guilty to the charge and take his sentence without demur.

Rivercomb, Wilcox and a third Indian, Tom Soledad, obtained a quantity of wine from "King" Anderson's store in Scandinavian Colony and while intoxicated engaged in a free for all fight. Wilcox, a big husky boy of 18, knocked Soledad to the ground and was unmercifully beating him. Rivercomb attempted to pull Wilcox away from the prostrate Soledad and, failing to do so, slashed him with a pocket knife across the back, the medical testimony being that Willie's possession of a backbone was all that saved him from death. Deputy Sheriff Maher arrested Rivercomb the following day and he has been held in jail pending Wilcox's recovery.

District Attorney Church instituted proceedings against the man who sold the liquor to the Indians, a man named Theo. Ricke, and his trial before Justice of the Peace Shannon at Fowler resulted in a conviction. Ricke disappeared before the time set for pronouncing sentence and has not been found. "King" Anderson was his bondsman and will in all likelihood have to pay the $100 fine imposed by Justice of the Peace Shannon.

Deputy District Attorney Hawson represented the district attorney's office in the trial of Ricke and in the preliminary hearing of Rivercomb. He expresses the view that the Indian is not nearly so much deserving of punishment as the man who furnished the "fire water" which was the direct cause of the cutting scrape.

PRUNE SEEDER LATEST INVENTION AT SELMA

Machines Being Made on Idea of Raisin Seeder.

Humorist-Minister Robert Burdette Lectures In Unger Opera House.

SELMA, Nov. 14.—The Selma Fruit company is now successfully seeding prunes with a machine built upon the plan of their new raisin seeder. The results are highly satisfactory, and work is now being rushed on additional machines with which it is hoped to accomplish a big season's run.

Robert J. Burdette entertained a large audience at Unger opera house Tuesday evening with his lecture, "The Rise and Fall of the Mustache." The proceeds of the lecture are to be used by the Ladies' Aid society of the M. E. church toward building their new house of worship.

The many friends of J. Edward Roadhouse will be pleased to learn that the reports from his bedside now offer some encouragement. Since the first attack, Mr. Roadhouse has suffered seven hemorrhages of the lungs, but during the past two days there has been no recurrence and his physicians state that if he suffers no relapse today there are hopes of his recovery.

Robert Staley and little daughter are here from San Francisco on a short visit to Mr. Staley's parents.

The following item from the Enterprise shows what Selma soil will produce: "The Selma Land company has on exhibition in its office a red yam that tips the scales at thirty-four pounds. It was grown by E. J. Craven two miles south of Selma. Another grown by Lou Say, weighing sixteen pounds, lies by the side of this prodigy and is scarcely noticeable."

In the same office there is exhibited a limb supporting half a dozen nearly ripe citrons. The fruit was grafted on an orange from a dormant bud placed in the tree in August, 1906, and the citrons are large and well developed. They were grown by C. C. Snyder near this city and are convincing evidence of the fact that this rare and valuable fruit can be raised in our climate.

There is also on display a gourd that is four feet eight inches in length. It is a club-shaped growth and is known in the office as "Henry's Big Stick." E. P. Todd produced this in his back yard and declares that when it was growing at its best it grew two inches by actual measurement in twenty-four hours."

Heliotrope Chapter No. 93 O. E. S. has elected officers for the coming year as follows: W. M., Mrs. D. C. Sherwood; W. P., D. S. Snodgrass; A. M., Mrs. Netta Dusy; C., Mrs. Irene Manlove; A. C., Mrs. Anna Stearns; secretary, Mrs. Cara Mitchell; treasurer, Herman Lohman.

Among the recent arrivals in Selma are William Humphrey of West Union, Iowa, P. C. McMakin and D. A. McMakin from Prosser, Nebraska.

Rev. H. E. Dibblee and family have arrived from Oromocto, New Brunswick. Mr. Dibblee is the new rector of St. Luke's Episcopal church.

Mr. and Mrs. Newton Hursh are rejoicing over the birth of a son on November 12th.

C. D. Smith has just completed a residence on C street between Grant and Ariants.

The Wednesday club met with Mrs. T. H. Elliott yesterday. The reading of Browning's "Blot in the Scutcheon" was completed under the leadership of Mrs. E. Becker. Mrs. C. H. Harrison gave a very thoughtful paper on "The Central Idea of the Drama." The club will meet November 27th with Mrs. S. H. Gill.

Dr. O. E. Bronson has bought a ranch near Carruthers, and will move there next week.

WEST PARK NOTES

WEST PARK, Nov. 14.—Mrs. Bessie Miller and daughter Maud, have come from Los Angeles to spend the winter with the former's brother, John Daniels. Miss Maud is attending the Fresno high school.

Miss Maud Bowen returned last Thursday from her visit to relatives in Alabama and reports having a delightful time while there.

Mr. and Mrs. Keen are the proud parents of a baby girl born October 25th. They are intending to move on a ranch three miles north of town.

Mrs. Sarah Elliot has sold her place to Mr. Kadarian and with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Garner have left West Park to reside in Kerman. Mrs. Elliott has been a resident of this community for about twenty years and she will be missed, especially by her old-time friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Preizer's new home on Valentine avenue is just about finished. They expect to move in it by the latter part of this month.

Mrs. Hollinghead returned Sunday from a visit to her parents in Missouri, it being the first time she has seen them since she left that place twenty years ago.

Miss Martina Hansen is working in Oakland and writes that she enjoys her occupation and thinks the climate delightful.

Mr. and Mrs. Chamberlain of Virginia, who have been visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Keen for several months, left for their home last week.

Miss Ruby Price has lately accepted a position as stenographer for the Fresno Fuel company.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Eaton and Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Hill, formerly of West Park, but now living in Twin Falls, Idaho, will be glad to hear that they are all well and have each bought twenty acres there and have started farming again.

Last Saturday the home of Miss Pearl Hart on Braly avenue was the scene of a gathering of young maids, who call themselves the "Kut-ups." This was their first meeting since they adjourned last summer. Miss Hart has an ideal home in which to entertain and it looked most attractive Saturday in decorations of autumn leaves and chrysanthemums. At the close of the afternoon refreshments were served.

Mrs. Whitehead left Sunday for Santa Barbara to spend the winter with her niece, Mrs. Fred Fanning.

The ladies' Thursday club will meet Thursday at the home of Mrs. C. F. Hart.

TULARE RANCH LANDS ARE SELLING RAPIDLY

Large Tracts Are Being Cut Up and Sold.

Republicans Are Working to Organize a Lincoln-Roosevelt Club.

TULARE, Nov. 14.—The sale of ranch lands continues in Tulare continues, every real estate man in town having a number of sales to outsiders under way, one from yesterday accepting payment on three sales.

There are a number of strangers in the city, mostly from Southern California and Eastern points.

W. Rehard of Ventura, who with Dr. Livingston of Oxnard bought 680 acres just west of Tulare, is here looking over his property. Mr. Rehard is undecided as to what use he will make of his land, and being a scientific as well as practical rancher, he proposes to run an experimental farm for a time. He is an expert bean grower and has experimented with the black-eyed bean here, claiming that it excels in quality the same bean grown in his southern country. He has decided to put on a large acreage of alfalfa and sugar beets as well as beans.

Asked why it was that Tulare ranch property was until recently not held as high as other similar ranch lands in the valley, a prominent and old-time Tularean said it was undoubtedly due to the removal of the Southern Pacific shops in 1891. At that time the population of Tulare was cut in half; a loss which it has since recovered. Up to the last three or four years there were tracts of ranch land close to Tulare which ran into the thousands of acres, which are now being cut up into smaller ranches and improved. This is what is bringing a growth in population and trade here that borders on the boom order.

Immediately north of Tulare is the Tagus or old Stokes ranch of 2800 acres, which will be put out in sugar beets in the spring. The Stokes family, original owners of this tract, settled in this country in the early fifties.

Just west of Tulare is the Mitchell tract, owned by Paige and Montcagle of San Francisco. When thrown on the market last year to be sold in tracts to suit small ranchers, it contained 7000 acres, much of which has since been sold to people who are improving and preparing to put in various crops. The same condition is true of the Bliss tract, originally 8000 acres. This lies northeast of town and is also rapidly being cut up into small ranches. One enthusiastic speculating purchaser from the southern part of the state insists that Tulare will more than double her population in the next five years. Be that as it may, the fact is evident to every person that visits here that the Tulare of today is a very different town from that of even two years ago; and the men who patiently waited and hoped, through the years when Tulare was almost a by-word with a neighboring towns, will yet have that "best" laugh which comes last.

The ladies of the St. Johns Episcopal church will have their annual chrysanthemum fair at Library hall on Friday and Saturday of next week. These annual fairs are always well attended and the ladies make snug sums of money. They have booths in which flowers, candles and various fancy articles are sold and a good musical program in the evening. They have a dinner at noon on Saturday and a Spanish supper the same evening.

H. A. Charters is out with a request to Republicans in Tulare county to organize a Lincoln-Roosevelt league. The proposition is one that is being taken up by Republican voters and the matter will undoubtedly come to a head. Mr. Charters was the only Republican editor in the county who flayed the work of the Republican state convention and refused to support the state ticket. On account of his conservatism he has a strong following in Tulare. He seems to think that 90 per cent of the Republicans of the county are in harmony with the principles advocated by the Lincoln-Roosevelt league.

Quite a number of people will accompany the Tulare high football team to Fresno on Saturday to root for the boys. The team will line up about the same as at Selma last Saturday and expect to play the game so strong that Fresno high will at least know they were in a game. The boys have the kindliest feelings towards the Fresno team because of their excellent treatment last year, but still they hope Fresno high will lose the game.

REMOVING DEBRIS IN FLUME AT MILL CREEK

Visalia Authorities Working to Prevent Floods.

Sixty-One Hunting Licenses for First Half of Month Are Issued In County.

VISALIA, Nov. 14.—Work was commenced this morning by the levee commissioners removing the accumulation of sand and debris in Mill creek above and below the flume. Later the work of cleaning the flume will be commenced by the city. It is hoped that the tendency to high water during several weeks in the spring months will be considerably lessened thereby.

It is reported that the injuries sustained by W. P. Cuson near Milo several days ago, when his ankle and foot were run over by a heavily loaded wagon are more serious than first reported. The bones of the ankle and the ligaments are said to have been torn apart and the bones of the foot and toes crushed. The injured members have been bound up in the hope of saving the foot. It is said to have been mashed, however, out of all semblance to its original shape. The wagons which passed over Cuson were loaded with 6000 feet of lumber.

The call for hunting licenses at the county clerk's office continues with little abatement. It was believed that there would be a noticeable falling off following the first rush after the opening of the duck season, but such appears not to be the case. Last Saturday, preliminary to the Sunday shooting, twelve were issued, and so far this month, although not yet half gone, the number totals sixty-one.

J. W. B. Rice and C. E. Meyers of Lemon Cove have located another garnet mine near that place which they consider valuable. Many stones of a high grade are said to have been taken from a similar mine located by them several weeks ago.

Twenty-two marriage licenses have been issued at the county clerk's office so far this month, of which six were issued yesterday and today. This is said to be a record for two weeks in this county.

T. J. Lewis and Ed Hutchinson of Santa Ana and Los Angeles respectively are guests at the W. A. Mills place, having arrived by auto from the south. They will return via the coast route.

William Kettner is here from San Diego on a business trip and spent today shaking hands with friends.

Mrs. W. H. Hammond left this morning for San Mateo, where Mr. Hammond is staying for the benefit of his health.

Starvation Sits At Loaded Tables

You Can Lead a Dyspeptic to The Table, but You Cannot Make Him Eat.

There comes a time in the lives of a great many men and women when even a sirloin steak ceases to be poetry. It becomes a protest. The appetite becomes fitful and fretful. Nothing on the bill of fare can coax it.

The appetite is there and yet it isn't. This makes eating a mere matter of machinery—the mouth doesn't water. The stomach has been worked overtime, and the body and the brain are paying the penalty.

There are thousands of people in every station of life who are walking the earth today with dyspeptic stomachs. They wear a dejected, forlorn appearance, their energy is at zero, nothing interests them, and they interest no one, their faces are shrunk, their nerves are wilted and their shoulders sag.

What if a Man Gains the Whole World—and Lose His Appetite.

Everything on the table may look delicious, but nothing will be tempting.

If you have ever felt bloated after eating and imagined it was your food that filled you; if you have felt your food lie like a lump of lead on your stomach; if you have had a bad, sour breath, difficulty in breathing after a meal, suffered from eructations, burning sensations, heartburn, brash, or gas on the stomach, make up your mind you have dyspepsia. And the chances are you have had it a long time.

Your stomach is overworked, winsed, fagged out. The gastric and digestive juices are weak, the muscles of the stomach are jaded, and the whole business needs new life. It needs something which will take hold of the food as it comes in and do the digesting, and let your stomach take a rest.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets do that very thing. They contain a most powerful ingredient which helps the stomach in the process of digestion, cures dyspepsia, sour stomach, indigestion, heartburn, eructations, acidity or fermentation. They invigorate the stomach, increase the flow of gastric juice, and do two-thirds of what the stomach would have to do without them. That gives the stomach some rest, and a chance to get right again.

You will feel the change first in your mind and heart and then over your whole body. You'll feel rosy and sweet. That's the object. You can get these effective little tablets almost anywhere on earth for 50c a package.

Send us your name and address today and we will at once send you by mail a sample package free. Address F. A. Stuart Co., 150 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

KEEN RIVALRY HAS DEVELOPED IN DISTRICT NO. 2 BETWEEN "GRANDPA" POOLE AND F. M. SHUCK

The dot on the above map points the location of the twenty-acre farm, the grand prize in the Republican's voting contest—note its position.

There is an interesting rivalry developed in district No. 2 between "Grandpa" Poole and F. M. Shuck, both of whom are well past the 200,000 mark and striving for first place. Mr. Shuck has held his position here for some weeks undisputed, but "Grandpa" Poole stepped in with a big count one day and made him give up his place. They change places almost daily. Today the Lone Star contestant has first place by barely a thousand more votes than his rival.

Ida E. Nelson of Kingsburg steps up ahead of Lulu Rutledge today. She is one of the live hustlers in this energetic contest and before the week's end there are to be some more big changes that will bring some surprises.

Interest in the contest continues unabated. Each contestant realizes that the end of the contest will come before anyone is aware of its being here and that work right now is going to count everything. Watch the ones who have made daily gains. They are on top in almost every case. It is a good thing to treasure up a reserve force, but when every other fellow in the race is doing the same thing are you any better off than though the votes were put in as gained? This spirit of hoarding votes is all right to a certain extent, but let your rivals see you are making a steady advance and—you at once become a more formidable rival. The business office expects to be swamped the last few weeks with this "reserve" vote, as previous experience has taught it that it will surely drop at the last, and is equipped to meet this emergency.

Some of the wiseacres among the candidates have it up their sleeve to spring a big surprise, no doubt, but in doing this be sure you have sufficient "reserve" to cover the votes of the other fellow who likewise has a reserve. Don't wait too long for the final bringing in of the big vote you have accumulated, for you might need a week or two to aid you in out voting some one who had a bigger reserve.

If any of the candidates have forgotten the "lay of the land" where the ranch lies that they are working so untiringly to secure, they may take a look this morning of the map shown here. Or if some of the late entries who have taken more than a passing interest in this grand prize would like to be certain of the location of their coveted treasure, it may be of interest to take a glance at it.

Norman Giesy of Modesto took a jump yesterday into second place in district 4, replacing Miss Julia Dwyer of Turlock. He is one of the ambitious young men after that ranch and he is going to get it, too, if hard work and liberal support from his friends count.

The Vote to Date.

LICENSES TO MARRY GIVEN TO FOUR COUPLES

Licenses to marry were issued yesterday to four couples named as follows:

Claude H. Bailey, native of Kansas, aged 30, and Maude Kerr, native of Massachusetts, aged 25, residents of Santa Rosa, Cal.

Henry Stanley Livingstone, aged 23, of Santa Maria, Cal., and Addie P. Barnes, aged 21, resident of Coalinga, both native born.

Conrad Frisch, aged 2[illegible], and Elizabeth Steits, aged 19, natives of Russia.

George F. Wilson, aged 47, and Josephine Vergara, 39, native born.

A SPLENDID, SAFE INVESTMENT.

Intending Investors Are Advised to Read the Following Through.

I have two or three choice tracts of land within six miles of Mendota, near the surveyed line of the Valley Western R. R., in district where improvements are now going on, far enough from slough to be free of alkali and within the proven limits of obtainable water; ready transportation facilities; soil over fifty feet in depth, richest in the county, level as a floor. For sale for next ten days only at less than surrounding lands are held at. Terms, if desired.

There is "West Side land" of all kinds and prices, and variously located; but look into above for safety of investment and rapid increase. Good reason for selling.

Some West Side lands are cheap because they carry some element of risk and the profit is remote. The lands above offered are cheap because they are intrinsically good—because the water and railroad propositions are not speculative, because the profit is more immediate, and because they are worth more than is asked for them.

Republican's Grand Voting Contest

SECOND PRIZE—Also Free for All Regardless of Location

A 1908 Model Rambler Touring Car Price $1,650

This is an absolutely high-grade car, of the most modern and luxurious sort, fully equipped, with top, finest lamps, and everything necessary to a complete outfit. The finest two-cylinder touring car on the market.

This car will be given to the candidate receiving the second highest number of votes.

FIRST PRIZE

FREE FOR ALL IRRESPECTIVE OF LOCATION

A Twenty Acre Farm Worth $2,000

Twenty acres of the best land in the Fresno Irrigated Farms District. All this land now on the market is selling for $100 an acre, and none can be had for a cent less. This is the former Bank of California tract, now owned by the Huntington interests of Los Angeles, and is destined to be one of the richest and most attractive farm colonies in California. Kearney Avenue is to be extended clear into the district; a street car line is a certainty in the near future; and the Fresno Country Club is now arranging to make it a center of out-door pastimes and social life.

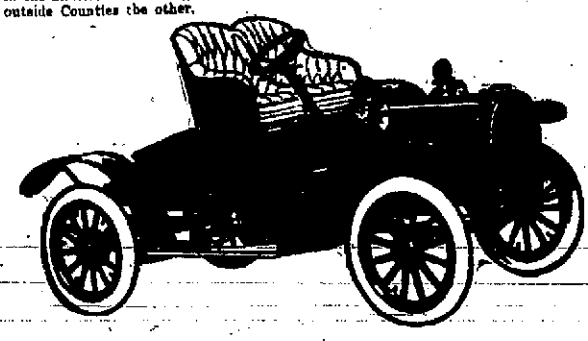

This farm will be an investment, and in a short time a competency for life. It is, beyond comparison, the finest offer ever made by a newspaper on the Pacific Coast, in a circulation contest.

This farm will be given to the candidate, irrespective of location, receiving the highest total number of votes.

THIRD PRIZE

In awarding this prize, the territory is divided into two districts, of which Fresno County is one, and the other consists of Tulare, Kern, Kings, Madera, Merced and Stanislaus Counties.

This car will be given to the person receiving the highest number of votes in the district not winning second prize. Fresno County will be one district; the outside Counties the other.

Newest Model Rambler Runabout Price $1,150

A high-powered, two-cylinder runabout, of the highest grade, fully equipped. The best general purpose car on the market.

Six Trips to Yosemite

The districts will be the same as for the trips to Hawaii, and one trip to Yosemite will be given to the person receiving the second highest number of votes in each district.

Six Trips to the Hawaiian Islands, All Expenses Paid

For the purposes of this prize, the San Joaquin Valley will be divided into six districts.

District 1—Fresno City.
District 2—Fresno County outside city.
District 3—Madera County.
District 4—Merced and Stanislaus Counties.
District 5—Kings County.
District 6—Tulare and Kern Counties.

One trip to the Hawaiian Islands will be given to the person receiving the highest number of votes in each of these districts, who does not win one of the capital prizes.

Eighteen Trips to Los Angeles or Santa Cruz

In each of the six districts, three trips to Los Angeles or to Santa Cruz, at the choice of the winner, all expenses paid, will be given to the three candidates coming nearest to the votes of those winning the first and second prizes in these districts.

EASTERN STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—The stock market was decidedly weak at some points today. Renewed liquidation of an urgent kind was inferred to be partly responsible for this. It was suspected also that there was a certain growth of activity on the part of the professional bears in the market, the circulation from time to time of rumors of an unfavorable character which failed of confirmation tending to confirm this impression.

The prominent factor in the market was the emphatic testimony from the iron and steel trade of the wide reaction in trade and the belief that it is to go further. The selling induced by this development naturally converged on the securities of the United States Steel corporation by the Pennsylvania railroad and was sharply affected and in close sympathy. Pennsylvania is the railroad system which responds most directly to the fluctuations in the iron and steel trade owing to the large proportion of its tonnage which is made up of materials for all branches of that trade. The supposition was that some large individual accounts in these stocks were being closed out and the selling orders were believed to have their origin in the iron and steel centers.

St. Paul was another distinct center of acute weakness, for causes individual to itself, apparently, as related stocks were much less affected. The explanation may be found in the approach of the date for payment of a large installment of subscriptions to new St. Paul common and preferred stock. The amount of the new stock of both classes in round numbers is $100,000,000 and on December 1 subscribers are committed to the payment of a 20 per cent installment, which calls, therefore, for approximately $20,000,000. It needs no explanation to understand that conditions are not propitious for meeting such a requirement.

Notwithstanding the considerable sympathetic feeling with the centers of weakness, scrutinies of the list will show where the existence is most acute.

The point of interest in the subject has shifted to the interior, from which the urgent demands are most responsible for present conditions. The opinion is heard amongst New York bankers that conditions may be due to what is in effective hoarding by the interior banks themselves, which have been moved to strengthen their reserve position as a precautionary measure, but seems to have overdone the matter in some instances. The drawing down of balances of interior banks in New York deposits is a prime factor in the dislocation of the domestic exchanges.

Reports published prior to the close of the stock exchange of the nature of the negotiations under way for a large sum of gold for New York from the Bank of France were somewhat vague. The very strong statement of the Bank of England, in spite of the large supplies of gold furnished to New York was accepted as highly encouraging. The accompanying decline today in the French banks' bullion holdings was evidence that Paris had been helping London to supply the New York demand. The recall of 10 per cent of the government deposits with the New York banks in small daily instalments was not considered of great importance in view of the influx of gold to New York. Bonds were irregular. Total sales par value $1,214,000. U. S. bonds were unchanged on call.

CHICAGO, Nov. 14.—The wheat market early in the day was weak because of the depression in the stock market. An advance of nearly one cent early had no effect. About noon the market turned strong and stayed that way for the remainder of the day. The market was bullishly affected by small receipts at the principal grain centers in this country. The close was strong. December opened ⅛ to ⅝ lower at 94 ⅜ to 95¼, sold off to 94⅛ and then advanced to 96 ⅛. The close was 95⅝@⅞.

May sold between $1.03 and $1.04⅝ and closed at $1.03⅝@⅞. The corn market was weak early in the day because of lower cables, clear cold weather in the corn belt and the break in wheat. Commission houses sold freely during the first hour. The market rallied later with the advance in wheat, and on an active demand by shorts and cash houses. The close was steady. December opened ⅛ to ¼ lower at 55⅛ to 55⅞, sold off to 54⅞ and then advanced to 55⅛. The close was at 55⅛.

Oats declined almost 1 cent early in the day in sympathy with weakness of wheat and corn, but remained the greater part of the loss by covering by shorts. December opened ¼ lower at 47, sold between 46⅛ and 47⅛ and closed at 46⅞.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—The market for evaporated apples is quiet but steady with fancy quoted at 10⅛; choice 9¼@9⅝; prime 8½@9 and 1906 fruit at 8@8½.

Prunes are steady with quotations ranging from 5 to 12½, for California fruit and from 6½ to 7½ for Oregons up to 20s@40s.

Apricots are unchanged with choice quoted at 25; extra choice at 23 and fancy 22@23½c.

Peaches continued quiet; choice 12@12½; extra choice 12½@13½; fancy 13@18½ and extra fancy 14@14½.

Raisins are moderately active with loose Muscatels quoted at 7⅛@8¾, and London layers $1.75@$1.85.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 14.—Wheat steady, December $1.60½, May $1.71½ bid, cash $1.56.

Barley quiet, December $1.54 bid, $1.56 asked; May $1.63½ bid; $1.68¾ asked; cash $1.60.

Corn unchanged, large yellow $1.70 asked, $1.75.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—Sugar, raw quiet; centrifugal 96 test $3.80; molasses $2.95; refined quiet, crushed $5.50; powdered $4.90; granulated $4.80.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 14.—Wool steady, medium grades combing and clothing 23 ¼, light fine 22@23; heavy fine 17@18; tub washed 28@36.

JOLIET, Ill., Nov. 14.—A jury today acquitted Rev. Benj. F. Graff, former Baptist minister, who was accused of forgery in connection with an insurance application. In the previous trial the jury disagreed. The defendant was arrested in Michigan and has been in jail here several months.

L. W. Klunt to L. A. Cochrane—Lots 18 and 19, Block 5, Blackstone Park, $10.

MONMOUTH COLLEGE BUILDINGS BURNED

MONMOUTH, Ill., Nov. 14.—Fire which is supposed to have started from a defective flue in the garret today destroyed the main building of Monmouth college, causing a loss estimated at nearly $40,000. While the fire was raging, Orval Deane, a lineman in the employ of the Monmouth Telephone company, lost his life by being buried under several falling floors. The churches of the city have tendered their structures for the college students to use temporarily.

EMERYVILLE RACES

SAN DIEGO PIONEER DIES AT AGE OF 72

SAN DIEGO, Nov. 14.—Edmund Westcott, a resident of this county for the past fifty-two years and probably one of the best-known men in the southern part of the state, is dead at the age of 72. He leaves a widow and five children.

Mr. Westcott was born in Cumberland county, Maine, December 26, 1834. His ancestors were residents of Maine for generations, and an early grandfather, "Post" Westcott, was a messenger to General Washington during the revolutionary war.

WATCH YOUR TONGUE

If Furred and Coated, It Is a Warning of Trouble to Come.

When it is the morning after the night before, you do not have to look at your tongue to know that the stomach is upset, the head is aching, with a dull rhythm, and that all the world looks black and dreary.

It may have been lobster Newburgh, Welsh rarebit or some other tasty dish that looked much better at night than the morning after. There is no need to look at the tongue thermometer then for symptoms of trouble. You naturally go to your box of Mi-o-na stomach tablets, and with one of the little relievers bring joy and gladness to the physical system.

The real time to watch the tongue is all of the time. If it is coated with a white fur, or possibly with dark trimmings, even though the stomach does not tell you by the acute pains of indigestion that it needs help, yet the coating shows that you are getting into a bad way and that there is need of Mi-o-na.

Mi-o-na is so positive, so sure, reliable in its curative action upon the stomach that the San Joaquin Drug Co., the local agents, give an absolute guarantee with every 50-cent box they sell to refund the money unless the remedy gives absolute and complete satisfaction.

HARRIMAN LINES DECLARE DIVIDENDS

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—Directors of the Union Pacific Railway company today declared a quarterly dividend of 2½ per cent on the common stock, which is separate from the rate of dividend of 10 per cent annually established about a year ago.

The directors of the Southern Pacific declared a semi-annual dividend of 3½ per cent on the preferred stock and quarterly dividend of ½ per cent on the common stock. These dividends are unchanged from the last previous quarter.

SHIPPER MUST PAY FOR LONGER HAUL

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—In the case of the A. J. Poor grain company, against the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railway company and other carriers, the Interstate Commerce commission today, in an opinion rendered by Commissioner Harlan, denied the complainant's motion for a re-hearing.

The complainant routed a consignment of grain through Denver to a destination in California when a shorter and less expensive route might have been adopted. The complainant objected to the freight charges on the shipment, maintaining that he was entitled to a rate by the shortest route. The opinion holds that a lawfully published schedule speaks with equal authority to the shipper and to the carrier and both are chargeable with notice of the rate and of the route over which the rate is made applicable. When responding to an inquiry by a shipper a mistake made by a carrier either as to rate or to route will not excuse the carrier from collecting the lawful rate or the shipper from paying it.

National Forest Extended.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—As a proposed addition to the Trinity national forest in California there has been temporarily withdrawn from disposal all the unappropriated public lands in an area of about 12,475 acres in Northwestern California in Humboldt, Tehama and Trinity counties, within the Eureka and Redding land districts.

NEW SUITS ENTERED IN SUPERIOR COURT

Knobloch Has Gone to Law Over a Lease.

J. A. Jack Threatens A. D. Owen With Injunction Over Land Possession.

F. Knobloch, the cement stone contractor, has a grievance against Redlick Bros. and has gone to law about it. Knobloch owns lot 7 and the south eight feet of lot 6 in city block 119, with the buildings thereon, at 749 N street. On the 13th of November, 1906, he alleges in his complaint that the firm was in possession as a tenant at $30 a month rent and under an agreement in writing that upon demand he would make improvements for the benefit of the firm during its tenancy.

The agreement was that inasmuch as Knobloch had let the contract to improve the premises Redlick Brothers undertook upon completion of the building to enter up a five years' lease at $66.50 per month and no other improvements to be made during the tenancy save as to the roof and sewer. While the improvements were in progress, a verbal request was made for other improvements for which in addition to the rent the firm would pay one per cent per month on the cost of the additional improvements. This was agreed to, it is averred, and $648 was expended in the improvements, the defendant being in actual possession during the work and superintending and controlling the improvements.

These were completed in January last and the firm became bound as tenant to pay monthly rent of $72.98 for five years from and after the date named and to accept a lease. The rent was so paid until September last, but not since, hence the prayer of the complaint that it be decreed that the firm is a tenant for five years at the rental named and that it enter upon a lease for five years after February, 1907, also for any other relief as in equity and good conscience he may be entitled to.

Disputed Possession.

According to a complaint filed in the case of A. D. Owen against J. A. Jack, the latter on the 1st day of August, 1906, leased for one year after October 15, 1906, the southeast quarter and the southeast quarter of the southwest quarter of section 33-13-19, but in conversation on the 15th of September, 1907, told Owen that without notice he would before October 15, 1907, surrender the premises, whereupon Owen leased them to others after October 15, 1907.

Thereafter Jack changed his mind and said he would not surrender possession without the notice of thirty days, that the lease was for one year and did not expire until October 14, 1907, that on the next day Owen attempted to place other tenants in charge and on November 14, 1907, to move a dwelling house on the premises from one site to another, that Jack threatened to enjoin him and being insolvent, as Owen alleges, is unable to begin injunction proceedings.

Already $300 damage has been suffered because of the refusal to surrender possession. Wherefore judgment is sought in that amount of damages and that Jack be enjoined from interfering with the plaintiff in the handling of the property in dispute. H. D. Carver and John C. Moore are the sureties on the $500 undertaking on injunction.

To Foreclose Mortgage.

J. S. Manley has sued E. O. Bowen and Asenath L. Bowen averring that on the 15th of January, 1904, he and his wife made a $560 note secured by chattel mortgages of that day and July 3, 1906. On the note $569 has been paid and there remains due $119.16, besides an incurred liability for $75 as attorney's fee. The suit is to recover the sums due and to foreclose the chattel mortgages on personal property on the Bowen place on the north half of the northwest quarter of section 1-14-18.

A Loan Before Marriage.

Ada F. Brown of Hanford, formerly Hackett, has sued A. H. Brown to recover judgment for what may be found due upon calculation on a promissory note of November 15, 1898, whereby he promised in five years to repay her $1300, money loaned. The plaintiff holds the note in her own right and the money was hers before marriage to the defendant fifteen days after the making of the note, to draw 9 per cent interest.

Rhodes Estate Letters.

Henrietta Rhodes has petitioned for letters in the estate of Henry Rhodes, who died on the 17th of October, 1905, leaving an estate valued at $1000 in a lot in Fresno Heights Homestead, being about a quarter of an acre. The heirs are the petitioning widow, five sons, the youngest 25 years of age, and two daughters, aged 35 and 21.

Stipulated Dismissal.

The case of S. S. Parsons vs. Alice B. Cohn and others, involving a land deal, was dismissed yesterday by stipulation, each party to pay its costs. The suit has been pending since 1905, and a motion was recently made to dismiss it because of lack of prosecution.

Public Administrator Andrews has asked for letters in the estate of W. H. Brooks, who died on the 6th inst., leaving as estate property un a farm valued at $600, about $197 cash and a rental interest in 160 acres belonging to F. S. Blair. The heirs are unknown.

SAYS GENERAL THOMAS ASKED TO ENTER THE CONFEDERATE SERVICE.

RICHMOND, Va., Nov. 13.—Considerable interest has been aroused in Richmond over the assertion that General Grant at one time offered his services to President Davis of the confederacy.

The Rev. Dr. William Jones, chaplain and historian in the confederacy, said he had no knowledge of either Grant or Farragut having made such an application.

"There can be absolutely no doubt, however," continued Dr. Jones, "in the case of Thomas. I have published the matter time and time again and will state most emphatically that I have in my personal possession a letter from General George H. Thomas which admits that at the time of the secession he applied for a commission to enter the Confederate service.

Always Was Sick
When a man says he always was sick—troubled with a cough that lasted all winter—what would you think if he should say he never was sick since using Ballard's Horehound Syrup. Such a man exists.
Mr. J. C. Clark, Denver, Colorado, writes: "For years I was troubled with a severe cough that would last all winter. This cough left me in a miserable condition. I tried Ballard's Horehound Syrup and have not had a sick day since. That's what it did for me." Sold by George H. Monroe.

This big November sale is developing into the biggest business getter this store has had in many seasons. A comparison with last year's November sales, shows us a gratifying increase.

THERE'S A REASON: We are selling the most staple and standard merchandise for less money than any other Fresno store.

We have had numerous out of town customers this week, whose individual purchases were in the hundreds of dollars, tell us that after they had learned what all the other stores had to offer, they found Redlick's prices far the lowest.

And that's true—every word of it. Our prices are the lowest. We demonstrate it every day.

DIME NOVELS CAUSE OF BOYS' STEALING

Two Lads Arrested for Burglary, Charge Each Other With Committing Crime.

Marvin Trively and Bert Todd, the two fifteen-year-old boys who were arrested by Detectives Dreuth and Cronkhite with Harvey True on suspicion of having robbed the till of the Burns-Laughlin grocery store on Tulare street Sunday night of $120 $120 and of having stolen a revolver, told a disconnected story to Detective Dreuth yesterday in the county jail, each accusing the other of the crime.

The boys practically admitted that they were implicated, but each denied having stolen the money. True was released because it is thought that he had no connection with the theft. The revolver was found in a livery stable yesterday near the store.

Attorney E. D. Edwards has been retained by the parents of the boys to defend them, and in the meantime they are locked up in the county jail and no one is allowed to communicate with them. They were visited by their parents yesterday and in a penitent mood. It seems that the burglary was the result of reading dime novel literature more than from the desire for money.

HEALTH OFFICER HAYDEN TO FACE FORMAL CHARGES

His Accusers Will Be the Minority Trio in Board of City Trustees.

MAYOR LYON WAS FOR DISMISSAL AT THE LAST SECRET CAUCUS HELD

The Statham-Hayden controversy, which has reached such an acute stage in the board of city trustees, is not dead. It only slumbers.

The well-authenticated report is that it will be revived in all its acuteness with the presentation of formal charges by City Trustees Statham, Myers and Collins for the removal from office of Dr. T. M. Hayden as the city health officer. When questioned concerning this report, Mr. Statham did not deny it, though at this time he was disinclined to divulge the nature of the accusations. He did make this statement, though:

"I have no reply to make to Dr. Hayden's statements at the board of health meeting referring to me and Mr. Myers as 'pin-headed politicians of the third or fourth wards,' and 'ignoramuses.' I have never made any reply to any of his personal abuse. I have only to state that I have never had any animosity against any member of the board of health and have never opposed it or any member of it. I have opposed Dr. Hayden as city health officer in my official capacity and I have been and am opposed today to him as health officer. I opposed him on the family cow proposition and the board of trustees was unanimous in upholding me. I opposed him on his meat inspection as a piece of nonsense and the board upheld me. If any bills of the health board were held up by the finance committee, they were passed up to the full board of trustees. I ask any one whether this looks like spite?"

City Trustee Myers, who has been with Statham thick in the fight against Dr. Hayden, also was reticent concerning the nature of the charges to be presented, but added generally this expression of sentiments:

"I would not lower myself by taking notice of any personal abuse of me by Dr. Hayden. I will only say as I did in open board that I had no knowledge of Mr. Statham's original charges against Dr. Hayden until they were made by him in open board and in his official capacity. And I can only add that not one charge ever made against Dr. Hayden has even been denied by him or disproven. As regards personal spite against Dr. Hayden, the record of the controversy between him and the board of trustees is the full answer to that assertion of his."

Statham Has Affidavit.

It has been an open secret that for some time Mr. Hayden has had in his possession an affidavit making certain accusations against Dr. Hayden. The existence of that affidavit has been known to the mayor and the members of the trustees' board. It has been exhibited to them and even read by them. It was shown and it was discussed as part of the proceedings of the last caucus of the trustees before the board meeting on the 7th of last month, when action on the dismissal of Dr. Hayden was last held back on the distinct understanding that peace would follow Hayden's resignation from the health board and his stepping down and out of the office. It is shrewdly suspected that this affidavit will furnish the basis of the accusation. The text of that affidavit is as follows:

"State of California, County of Fresno, ss.

"Mrs. Annie Sullinger of the county of Fresno, state of California, being first duly sworn, deposes and says as follows:

"That she is now, and for more than two years last past has been running and conducting a dairy in the county of Fresno, state of California.

"That for more than two years last past Dr. T. M. Hayden has been, and now is, the health officer of the city of Fresno, county of Fresno, state of California.

"That during said two years last past said Dr. T. M. Hayden in his said official capacity as health officer has frequently called at and visited the dairy of affiant and said affiant has on several occasions during said period of two years called upon said Dr. T. M. Hayden in his said official capacity as health officer at his office in the city of Fresno, county of Fresno, state of California.

"That on said visits of said Hayden to the dairy of affiant, and on such visits of affiant to said Hayden's office, said Dr. T. M. Hayden while acting in his said official capacity and in the presence of the affiant, and at other times in the presence of affiant and her children used vile and profane language.

"That in the last part of June, 1906, said Hayden paid an official visit to the dairy of said affiant and during said visit in the presence of affiant and of her daughter, Lillian Sullinger, then aged 8 years, and in the hearing of said affiant and her said daughter he referred to the milkers on said dairy as dirty — —, that two of said milkers were sons of this affiant and one was George Gray; that said Hayden was informed at said time that two of said milkers were sons of this affiant, but said Hayden did not apologize or offer to apologize for his said statement and has never apologized or offered to apologize for the same.

"That in the last part of June or first part of July, 1907, at the dairy of said affiant when said Hayden was visiting the same in his official capacity and in the presence of affiant he called the milkers — — — — and used such language as '— — it' and '— — — it.' That said vile and profane language as before stated was used in the presence of this affiant and within her hearing, that he also used the same vile and profane language during the said last past of June or first part of July, 1907, on an official visit to affiant's dairy and in the presence of affiant and her said daughter, Lillian, and within their hearing.

"That early in July, 1907, affiant visited said Hayden in his official capacity at his office in the city of Fresno and on said visit and in the presence and within the hearing of this official he used the following vile and profane language: '— — it' and '— —' and informed her at said time that 'hell would freeze over before he would issue her a license.'

"That affiant has frequently requested said Hayden to issue her a license to sell milk within the city of Fresno but said Hayden has refused to do so, that affiant on such requests being made stated and informed said Hayden that she was willing to take any sanitary measures directed by Hayden to insure the cleanliness of the dairy and the purity of the milk produced thereon, but said Hayden has at all times refused to issue a license to this affiant as to direct her as to what sanitary measures were necessary or required.

"That this affiant has suffered great loss and damage by such refusal of said Hayden to issue such license and is now suffering great loss and damage by reason thereof.

"Subscribed and sworn to before me this 1st day of October, 1907.

E. M. HARRIS,

"Notary Public, in and for the county of Fresno, state of California."

MRS. ANNIE SULLINGER.

That Famous Caucus.

In view of this latest promised development in the affair, preceded as it was by the coup d'etat resulting from the resignation of City Trustee Kelsker and his appointment as license collector for no other purpose than to break up the possibility of rounding up the seven votes required to dismiss Hayden from office for cause, the proceedings of that secret caucus of October 7th have now a special interest. The facts have never been made public. At that caucus was brought up the charge, among others that Hayden had as City Health officer refused to answer a police night call to the emergency call for a Mexican who was badly stabbed. It was maintained that to answer this summons was his duty under section 166 of the charter as follows:

"The city physician shall attend when called upon, the indigent sick or wounded in the city and shall have charge of any receiving hospital or dispensary established for the benefit of the sick poor."

The mayor, who had before this several times changed his attitude but finally arrayed himself on the side of Dr. Hayden, hesitated to believe this latest accusation, the unanimous interpretation of the caucus being that the health officer should attend emergency calls for indigent sick or wounded in the city. Mayor Lyon left the caucus room, stepped down stairs to the police office for information and learned from Detective Dreuth that Hayden had refused to respond to the emergency call, saying, "Get someone else." Lyon reported this to the caucus and City Attorney Ewing was called in to give his construction of section 166 to say that he was of the opinion that the city health officer was required to perform the duties therein specified.

Thereupon Mayor Lyon declared that enough had been proven to warrant the health officer's dismissal for refusal to perform his duty. J. M. Wrightson, the only man on the board who had not signed the original demand for Hayden's dismissal, also so declared himself. And with that understanding the caucus resolved to take no action on the dismissal but to await the acceptance of Dr. Hayden's promised resignation by the board of health and his going out on October 1st. That was the caucus pledge of eight members.

Ewing Changed View.

Some days after the caucus Attorney Ewing said that after again reading the charter section he was not so sure that it required the city health officer to answer emergency hospital calls. It was at the trustees' meeting on the 22nd ult. that the recommendation of the police commission was acted upon to arrange with some surgeon to attend to the emergency hospital calls, and City Attorney Ewing advised that while the city health officer has charge of the emergency hospital he did not think that official was called upon to answer emergency summons, declaring that no man, even if he were under $10,000 salary, could physically perform the duties which the charter demands of the city health officer.

This meeting was the first one attended by Trustee Klette with the program of Trustees Falkenstein and Kelsker conveniently absent soon after roll call and seven affirmative votes not present a vote on the Hayden dismissal could not be had. The board of health had a day or so before after long delay received Dr. Hayden's resignation but declined to accept it.

After that there was another meeting of the city trustees and again seven affirmative votes were missing, Falkenstein and Kelsker again absent. It was no great surprise, therefore when at the special meeting last week Kelsker resigned. This reduced the board membership to seven, three of them personal appointees of the mayor, giving him, with Falkenstein, four, and with the coming appointee five at all times dependable votes to carry any measure, yet making it impossible to have seven votes to oust Hayden under the charter. With the presentation of charges for formal trial, there must of course be a new alignment independent of the caucus pledges.

Statham's Bombshell.

Recalling some of the salient features of the controversy, it may be stated that it was at a morning session of the city trustees on the third of last September that Trustee Statham first cast the bombshell after the reading of the doctor's claim for $167.50 as vital statistician in recording death certificates at twenty-five cents per death.

Under the State Law.

Statham referred to the conduct of the affairs of the city health office as "a disgrace to the administration," and stated that the time had come to take notice of it. He made comparison between the amount of fees for burial certificates collected under a previous health officer (Dr. Aiken) and the incumbent, saying that either people had ceased dying or else there are no more bodies being taken up for removal shipment. At any rate he thought "there was something wrong," and he asked that a committee from the board be named to investigate and report.

Incidentally Mr. Statham alluded to the methods followed by the health officer in the Chinatown proposition; that he had maintained offices in abandoned bawdy houses in Upson's buildings where he required the women of the tenderloin to come to him twice a month to subject themselves to medical examinations for each of which they paid him $2. That he even had the sanitary inspector round up the women for their $2 examinations and that under his orders no certificate except one by him was given recognition by the inspecting police. Statham referred to the celebrated De Voe parade of fallen women in which 117 or 118 participated to show what the health officer's income from these $2 medical examinations was at that time.

As a committee of investigation the mayor and Trustees Collins and Statham were named. Incidentally it may be mentioned that Dr. Hayden's $2 certificates given to the women were not signed by him as health officer. Had they been collected in his official capacity, he would have had to turn them into the city treasury under ordinance No. 419:

"The health officer of said city shall receive a salary of $100 per month payable monthly out of the city treasury, which shall be in full compensation for his services, and all fees collected by him shall be paid into the city treasury and shall belong to the said city."

At the evening session of the trustees on September 3, the report was made after investigation that from July 29, 1906, to October 3, 1906, $116 had been collected for burial fees and that $84 had been in Dr. Hayden's hands unaccounted for fifteen months lacking three days. He explained that he held the money in escrow until he could learn who to return the money to, a question having arisen as to the legality of the fee. He stated furthermore that he could not obtain a definite opinion from his private attorneys (Everts & Ewing) nor from the city attorney (Ewing), whom he had consulted. Mr. Everts explained at the meeting that Dr. Hayden had consulted him as to these fee collections and he had reported the matter to Mr. Ewing.

Health Board Resolution.

Then came the celebrated meeting of the board of health on September 9th, when resolutions were adopted that "whereas an unwarranted and uncalled-for attack has been made on the executive officer of this board and on his conduct of the health office, and whereas the statements made in said arraignment are false and entirely unfounded," therefore condemning "in unmeasured terms this indecent demonstration as it is a serious reflection on this board."

Dated on the 9th Dr. Hayden also received Mayor Lyon's letter of dismissal from the office for having used concerning Trustee Statham the following remark, "Statham was raised on guts and feathers," made during the recess at the meeting on the 3rd.

On the day following the board of health meeting, seven of the city trustees (Wrightson excepted) demanded in writing of the mayor the dismissal of Chairman Burks of the health board, stating that the Statham charges against Hayden "were in the highest degree just and right and a proper performance by Trustee Statham of his official duties," and "the resolution offered by Dr. Burks is brief an unwarranted and uncalled-for and an indecent exhibition of frivolity and insolence," etc.

The Hayden letter of dismissal was also a petition of seven trustees, but not for the grounds stated in the demand. Mayor Lyon chose as ground for dismissal the recess language of Hayden in referring to Statham and on the following day changed his mind.

On the 11th of September came the memorable interview between Statham and Dr. Burks, wherein the latter stated that he had introduced the "indecent demonstration" resolution at the request of Dr. Hayden, that the latter was the author, that it had been written off on Hayden's typewriter and that Hayden presented it to Burks, who had thrust it into his pocket and had introduced it at the meeting without ever having read it. Statham was satisfied with this explanation or pretended to be. At any rate, after the explanation Dr. Burks was never more in danger of dismissal.

Then on the 16th came the meeting of the city trustees, at which Attorney Ewing gave it as his opinion that the Hayden $167.50 could not be paid, because no provision had been made by ordinance for the creation of a fund to pay these claims; also that Dr. Hayden had consulted him "possibly a year" before regarding the fee for "the removal permit of a dead human body." Since then it has been given out that the $84 for removal permits so long held in escrow have been returned to the undertakers to be paid back to the estates of the dead from whom collected.

Dr. Hayden stated last night over the telephone in response to the question that he is familiar with the Sullinger affidavit and denied having used the language therein attributed to him. He added that Drs. Burks, Loper and Barr were present at the time and they do not recall the use of such language by him.

MANY ATTEND PRAYER SERVICE AT Y. M. C. A.

Another well attended prayer service was held at the Young Men's Christian Association last evening, at 9:30 o'clock. Great interest is being shown in these meetings, the results of which in this way are very gratifying to the men who are at the head of the local institution. The subjects for prayer last evening were:

1. The Railroad and Industrial Associations and the unorganized field.
2. The Committeemen and Volunteers.
3. The Young Men and Association of Hawaii and the Philippines.

The subjects for prayer this evening will be:

1. The Country Boys and Young Men, Town and Country Associations.
2. The General Secretaries and Assistant Secretaries.
3. The Young Men and Associations of Australasia and New Zealand.

LITTLE TO COMMEND IN "ROLLICKING GIRL"

The Swing Song Was One of Few Good Things.

Snitz Edwards Proved Funny, But at Times He Overstepped the Bounds.

"The Rollicking Girl" played to a small house at the Barton last night and for some reason the house grew smaller as the evening wore on. It is the regrettable truth that a few of Fresno's most prominent theater patrons left the theater before the performance was over. To be sure they went quietly and without attracting attention from the stage. Nevertheless they went. Ask them why they went. They did not leave word with the usher, for several tried to find out from this source.

"The Rollicking Girl" is a musical comedy or a musical play. There is scarcely enough music in it to really give it a right to the first name and the comedy which gives it the second name was centered in one man, who on occasions overstepped the bounds of real comedy and became a monkey. At least that was what those who sat nearest the stage supposed he was endeavoring to imitate. It was a clever imitation and entitles its originator to a position in a finer trained animal show than "The Rollicking Girl."

The play is a collection of vaudeville turns of more or less refinement. That depends upon the point of view. The original production of this play was given with Hattie Williams and Sam Bernard in the leading roles. Even with them it could not have been above the mediocre standard, and with lesser lights it revealed all sorts of crudities and vacancies.

The company had a few good people in it who were unfortunately placed in the position of trying to make something out of a part that was not worthy the name of a real part. Snitz Edwards and Miss Lila Blow carried most of the performance through and had it not been for them, it would have been a dreary night indeed. The former possesses many qualities which go towards making a likable comedian, but on one or two occasions his comedy was of the other sort that smudged the good points.

Miss Blow is a pretty young woman and in looks and manner is very much like Hattie Williams, who created the role she plays. Her manner particularly savors of Miss Williams, whether by nature or absorption. She was decidedly the cleverest one of the company and was the only one who suggested what the performance might have been. Her voice was not her strong advantage, but she sang with expression and grace and her manner was quite captivating. In her "Tricks" song she scored a hit. It was clever and Miss Blow made the most of this, her best opportunity to shine.

The swing song in the second act was a decided novelty and was a very fascinating bit of play. Three flower swings hung from the top of the stage, their occupants swinging out over the audience to the musical rhythm of a most musical waltz song. There were a few unexpected turns of this kind that made one wonder how some of the other scenes got mixed up with so much that was picturesque.

James McIntyre has the only voice in the company, and with Fanrine Murray sang the "Swing Song." The Dale sisters did some clever specialties in the way of toe dancing that contributed a bit to the good side, but it was very difficult to remove the impression of the half of the performance about which one refrains from bestowing fulsome praise.
